JOHN L. LEWIS COMES BACK TO AFL

SHOCK BROKE HITLER'S MIND, AIDE REPORTS

FUEHRER MARRIED APRIL 28, SAYS VON BELOW

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Herford, Germany, Jan. 25. (AP)—Adolf Hitler suffered bomb shock in the July 20, 1944, attempt on his life that later led to deterioration of his mind and nerves, a statement by his Luftwaffe adjutant, 38-year-old Col. Nicolaus Von Below, said today.

Von Below, arrested after disguising himself as a university student, also said that Hitler and Eva Braun were married in the Berlin Reichschancellery last April 28, not April 29 as indicated by other evidence.

Drank Wedding Toast

Von Below told British questioners that the 1944 bomb explosion knocked him unconscious, and that afterward he saw Hitler come out a doorway of the shattered conference room with his uniform badly torn, but unhurt except for a leg bruise. But later, he said, Hitler showed signs of the effect of the shock, and Von Below declared this led to deterioration of the fuehrer's mind and nerves.

Von Below said he did not attend the marriage ceremony but that he saw Hitler and Eva Braun come out of their rooms after the wedding, and that later he drank a champagne toast with Hitler and his "bunker family."

The marriage contract purportedly entered into by Hitler and Eva Braun and found by American intelligence officers was dated April 29.

British intelligence personnel said today they were inclined "to think that Von Below's statement is the closest and therefore the most reliable account ... we are inclined to accept the 28th as the wedding day."

Private Will Signed

Von Below took up his quarters in one of the three bunkers outside the Reichschancellery in Berlin on April 20, 1945, to prepare for a fight to the finish at the side of Hitler. He was present at the conference at which Hitler decided to stay in the blazing capital.

Von Below was told by Hitler that he had been with him for such a long time he was to sign as one of the witnesses of Hitler's private will.

He read it and added his name after those of Bormann and Goebbels. He was not informed of Hitler's political will until the next day, April 29, when he was told that Hitler had appointed a new government to rule after his death.

Von Below said "Arrangements had been made for the destruction and the burning of Hitler's and Eva Braun's bodies.

He said it was generally known in the bunker that Hitler and Eva Braun would commit suicide.

Von Below said Hitler gave him permission to escape from Berlin and ordered him to attempt to reach Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and put up a "brave fight."

Von Below took his official leave of Hitler about 11 p. m. on April 29—16 hours before Hitler's presumed suicide—and left the bunker at midnight. He managed to escape from Berlin but by May 3 he had realized the impossibility of reaching Keitel in the Kiel area. Changing into civilian clothes after the capitulation, he eventually reached Bonn.

BOUNTIES TOTAL $63,475

Lansing, Jan. 25 (AP)—The state conservation department paid out $63,475 in bounties on 27 wolves, 3,418 coyotes and 682 northern peninsula bobcats to licensed hunters during 1945.

Ford And Union Near Accord On Pay Raise

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP) — Wage negotiations between the CIO United Auto Workers Union and the Ford Motor Co. were recessed today until next week with persistent rumors that the two-cents an hour difference had been narrowed sharply.

There was no statement, however, from company or union as the fifth session this week was adjourned.

The union which originally demanded a 30 per cent wage rate increase has offered to settle with Ford for about 16 per cent—19½ cents an hour—while the company has countered with a proposal of 14.4 per cent or 17½ cents an hour.

The union demands on Chrysler Corp. also have been cut from 30 per cent to about 17.1 per cent. What the company has offered has not been disclosed but the negotiators were also reported "close together." A corporation spokesman said merely that "progress is being made." The conferees will meet again tomorrow.

Meanwhile the deadlocked General Motors strike which has kept 175,000 production workers idle for 65 days was making itself felt elsewhere in the industry. Packard Motor Car Co. began laying off assembly line workers as its stock of crankshaft and connecting rod bearings, obtained from GM, neared exhaustion. The first of 8,000 Packard workers scheduled for lay-off during the ensuing week were sent home today.

At the Ford Motor company's Rouge plant in nearby Dearborn, 15,000 workers were laid off today because of the steel industry strike. Another 25,000 are to be released next week. Ford currently is employing about 110,000 workers.

Shortages developing from the recently settled glass industry strike have resulted in the laying off of 8,700 Chrysler Corp. workers in the Detroit area. Similarly 2,600 Briggs Manufacturing Co. workers have been idled by lack of parts for automobile body and other car industry equipment.

BOMBAY MOBS CONTINUE RIOTS

Three Days Of Fighting Bring Death To 22; Over 600 Wounded

BY PRESTON GROVER

Bombay, Jan. 25. (AP) — Police hurled tear gas and fired at least four times on mobs today, but failed to halt riots in areas of Bombay bloodied by three days of fighting in which 22 persons have been killed and more than 600 wounded.

In an effort to preserve peace during tomorrow's celebration of Indian independence day, the India congress party directed 250 volunteer police to move into the trouble areas of the city.

Tonight there was some evidence of a decrease in the rioting, which began Wednesday with a demonstration on the birthday of Subhas Chandra Bose, former leader of the Japanese-sponsored Indian national army. A curfew was imposed in the affected areas from 9 a. m. to 6 a. m.

Indian congress officials appealed again to students and others to end the disturbances.

Police officials said students were to blame for much of the rioting, but they declared gangs of hoodlums were responsible for the looting of grain shops and post-offices.

Some of today's demonstrations were directed against shops owned by the local colony of Parsees and shops owned by Persians.

The greater part of Bombay was unaffected by the disturbances, and downtown districts, with the exception of the very center of the city, remained peaceful.

Temperatures Take Dive Again Tonight

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP)— A cold wave will hit Michigan Saturday and sent the mercury to zero or lower throughout most of the state Saturday night, the weather bureau here predicted tonight.

The forecast also warned that strong northerly winds, and snow flurries would accompany the rapidly declining temperatures.

At Lansing the state highway department said colder weather would improve the slippery conditions of Lower Peninsula highways caused by a wet snowfall late today.

Taxicab Tags Bring $5,000 In Detroit

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP)—Taxicab license plates, issued by the city for a $50 annual fee, are being resold for as high as $5,000, it was reported today by Mayor Jeffries as he asked the common council to pass an ordinance restricting such transactions.

He said the city has 2,000 applications on file for such licenses, most of them from World War II veterans.

DEFOE MUZZLED IN McKAY CASE

Testimony About Liquor Purchases Stricken From Record

BY ROBERTA APPLEGATE

Jackson, Jan. 25 (AP)—Testimony by State Senator Murl H. Defoe of Charlotte that Fred C. Ehrmann, former secretary of the liquor control commission, determined purchases and distribution of liquor was stricken from the record today in the trial of Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids Republican, and four others.

Judge John Simpson of Jackson ordered the testimony stricken on the motion of William Henry Gallagher, counsel for McKay, who said "It appears that this was merely a conclusion without a single fact to support it."

The judge, who had repeatedly told Defoe, a former liquor commission member, to "answer the question," said the testimony of Defoe's 'conclusion' about Ehrmann's activities was inadmissible.

Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler, arguing to retain the testimony, said "It is entirely possible that the determination or test would be based on facts which this witness cannot now recall."

Defoe still was on the witness stand when court recessed for the week, after a day and a half which he spent parrying Gallagher's cross-examination.

Injunction Issued In Michigan Bell $3,500,000 Refund

Lansing, Jan. 25 (AP)—A temporary injunction restraining the state public service commission from enforcing an order directing the Michigan Bell Telephone company to refund to its customers $3,500,000 for each of 1944 and 1945 and to reduce its 1946 charges by a similar amount, was issued today by Circuit Judge Paul G. Eger.

Eger directed the company to set up a reserve of $14,000,000 as security pending the outcome of the litigation and to post a bond of the some amount to insure obedience of the order.

NO BREAK YET IN STEEL TIEUP

Fabricating Firms Move To Settle Their Own Wage Differences

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—The big steel strike, now five days old, was no nearer settlement tonight but a group representing 56 steel fabricating and processing firms moved to settle their own differences with the CIO-United Steelworkers.

The board of directors of the Tristate Industrial Association, whose member companies in the Pittsburgh area employ around 50,000 men, recommended wage negotiations be resumed individually whenever the union makes such a request.

CIO President Philip Murray, in a statement earlier regarding the situation confronting the fabricators, said the union has been and is now prepared to engage in collective bargaining.

The steel shortage was reflected tonight in the auto field with the lavoff of 15,000 Ford workers at Detroit. Up to 20,000 remained idle at coal mines and on fuel-carrying railroads and reports from scattered areas showed the shortage was making itself felt in other lines.

CIO President Philip Murray announced 30 small fabricating firms in scattered parts of the country have now signed contracts calling for an 18½ cent an hour wage boost—the steel wage settlement figure proposed by President Truman, and accepted by Henry J. Kaiser for his Fontana, Calif., plant.

Overdose Of Drugs Possible Cause Of Parking Lot Death

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP)—Authorities indicated today that William Burns, 33-year-old draftsman, may have died of an accidental overdose of drugs.

Medical examiner Paul A. Klebba said a preliminary chemical analysis failed to show any traces of alcohol, knockout drops or carbon monoxide in the victim's blood.

"He may have used a strong drug," Dr. Klebba said, and added that relatives of the dead man told him Burns used drugs to relieve the pain of an ailment that had crippled his left leg.

The body of the former Fremont, Mich., man was found frozen in his car Wednesday in a downtown parking lot. The clothing had been removed from the upper part of his body.

About $300 he was believed to have carried when he disappeared Saturday was missing.

Police continued to hold two negro women for questioning in an effort to trace Burns' movements prior to his death. Also detained was a bartender who worked in a tavern police believe may have been visited by Burns.

Wartime Casualty List Now 1,068,378

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP) — The War Department revised upward today its wartime casualty list, adding 5,646 to the list of soldiers killed and bringing the overall total of all American casualties to 1,068,378.

The War Department report, corrected to Dec. 31, listed total Army casualties as 922,764, an increase of 109 over the last previous total announced two months earlier.

Compared with the Nov. 1 report, the principal change was to increase the list of those killed from 217,569 to 223,215, while reducing the number missing from 18,311 to 12,752. The latest computation for the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard lists 145,614 total casualties, including 59,678 killed, 80,279 wounded and 5,657 missing.

FACT FINDING BILL OPPOSED BY UAW CHIEF

BITTER ATTACK ON SEN. VANDENBERG IS HALTED

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)— The senate labor committee heard R. J. Thomas' objections to the fact-finding bill today, but halted his reading of a nine-page statement when it developed into a bitter attack on Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich).

Thomas, president of the CIO United Auto Workers, had distributed copies of his statement to committeemen and reporters. It said that Vandenberg "carried the GM torch" and "helped lay a trap into which President Truman has stepped."

The "trap," Thomas alleged, was Vandenberg's proposal that the president call a labor-management conference. He asserted the senator "knew that the automobile industry wanted the labor-management conference to fail." The industry, he added, "made sure that no agreement would be reached, and that there would be legislation proposed by Mr. Truman if no agreement were reached."

Thomas contended that the proposed fact-finding bill was the result.

Public To Benefit

Thomas had developed only part of this argument, but had made other derogatory references to Vandenberg, when the committee members stopped him in the middle of his third page. Senator Morse (R-Ore) made the first remonstrance, calling the testimony irrelevant, and Senators Donnell (R-Mo), Smith (R-NJ) and Taft (R-Ohio) quickly joined in the protest.

Chairman Murray (D-Mont) finally ordered Thomas to cease his attack "on a senator who is not here to defend himself." Vandenberg is a delegate to the United Nations meeting in London; he is not a committee member.

Thomas returned a firm "no sir" to questions of Senator La-Follette (Prog-Wis) as to whether any new labor legislation is needed.

Senator Ellender (D-La) asked Thomas if the government could do nothing but let General Motors and the union "sweat it out?"

"I think it's got to be sweated out," Thomas said grimly. "I think the best thing to do is leave the situation alone if we are going to have a democracy."

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) asked Thomas whether he thought the present strike situation was a benefit to the public.

"Not right now but in the long run it will be," Thomas replied.

Thomas' testimony followed that of President Charles E. Wilson of General Motors Corporation who likewise opposed the fact-finding bill. Wilson argued that fact-finding impedes collective bargaining and makes it difficult to reach agreement in labor disputes.

Up To Congress

Wilson asserted that the 19½-cent hourly wage increase recommended by the General Motors fact-finding board had led unions to hold out for a settlement at that figure.

Under questioning, he said he would not be willing to submit the two-month-old General Motors strike to arbitration unless "congress said that was the thing to do."

Wilson denied General Motors had participated in any joint industrial action against labor or was a party to any "mutual strategy" of corporations to fight the CIO wage drive.

Housing Expediter Given More Work

Washington, Jan. 25. (AP)—President Truman today appointed his housing expediter, Wilson W. Wyatt, administrator of the National Housing Agency effective Feb. 1.

Wyatt, former mayor of Louisville, Ky., who was brought in recently to push home construction, thus will have charge of all government activities in the housing field.

John B. Blandford Jr., the present housing administrator, will go to China shortly to set up a budget system for the Chinese government, the White House announced.

GUN WOUND FATAL

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP)—Lorella Hunt, 21, died today in Foote hospital from a shotgun wound which she received in her home Thursday afternoon. Sheriff Allan MacDonald of Ingham county, who is investigating the shooting, said the shotgun was discharged by her three-year-old brother in their parents' absence.

Double-Cross Claimed; CIO Will Not Return To Packing House Jobs

Chicago, Jan. 26 (Saturday) (AP) —The government seized at 12:01 a. m. today 11 meat packing companies, including the nation's five largest, all of which have been tied up by striking AFL and CIO union workers since Jan. 16.

Gayle G. Armstrong, government representative for President Truman and the Secretary of Agriculture, took over possession of the plants without formal ceremony through each company's officials, whom he had designated as his aides.

The head of each company had been instructed earlier to display the United States flag and post the official notice of government seizure. Armstrong said he would deliver subsequent orders to the company heads who would in turn delegate authority to plant officials "down the line" as necessary.

Union leaders of 193,000 United Packinghouse Workers (CIO) yesterday refused to order their membership to return to work, but officers of the 55,000 Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen (AFL) on Thursday ordered their members to return to work for Uncle Sam in a temporary truce.

The AFL group consented to work for government operators at existing wage rates, awaiting outcome of hearings by a federal fact-finding panel, but the UPW declared its membership would not return to work without assurance from the government the union's wage demands would be put into effect during federal occupation of the plants.

The government seizure was effective at 12:01 a. m. (EST) in the eastern time zone then westward at hourly intervals in the various time zones.

Eight other companies listed in the president's original seizure order Thursday will be signed up this morning, Armstrong said, when their officials reach Chicago.

Possession of the plants included "without limitation, all real estate, buildings, machinery, tools, equipment, inventories, and all livestock, materials, supplies and articles of production and processing of meat and meat products whatsoever," said Armstrong's directive to the company heads.

The UPW strike strategy committee for District 1 (Chicago) said after midnight "our picket lines stay up regardless of the seizure," and the UPW headquarters said it had "no comment until morning."

"We have no plans for any further meetings tonight and expect none until morning," a spokesman said.

Accusing President Truman of engaging "in a strike-breaking action," an announcement of the union national wage policy committee action read by Lewis J. Clark, union president, also declared the seizure order was "a complete double-cross" and the government was "giving the workers a raw deal."

Clark said the committee decision was "unanimous." He and other union leaders said it was "final" because the committee included "delegated representatives" of all 267 locals throughout the country.

LINER BRINGING 600 GI BRIDES

English Girls Start On Great Pilgrimage To Husbands In U.S.A.

BY BARBARA WACE

Tidworth, Eng., Jan. 25. (AP)—More than 600 GI brides sailing for the United States tomorrow talked tonight with growing excitement of many things on their last night in England—things like bananas and ball games, steaks and stockings.

All major preliminaries had been completed for the great pilgrimage toward homes and husbands. They were ready to start moving on two special trains to Southampton, where the liner Argentina, the first bride and baby special, was scheduled to leave at 5 p. m. (12 o'clock noon EST).

Twelve of the original contingent, the only unhappy people in this big camp, have been told that they would have to wait for later sailing.

A hot bath and a visit to a ball game are the first things Mrs. Winfred H. Bohar, wife of S/Sgt. Charles Bohar, wants when she gets to Cleveland, Ohio.

Severe Cold Wave Hits New England; 3 Vessels Wrecked

Boston, Jan. 25 (AP)—New England got set for a new cold wave tonight after weathering a severe northeast storm that wrecked three vessels — including a New Bedford fishing trawler with two men missing—and piled up two feet of snow in northern Maine.

A 48-foot mail boat, Maid of All Work, struck a ledge and was wrecked in Penobscot bay shortly after it left its dock at North Haven, Maine, but four men on board were saved.

In Boston, a small water tanker which supplied ships in the harbor went down in shallow water and two men aboard were rescued by an Army boat after they had clung to the upraised bow through snow and rain from 11 p. m. until 8 a. m. today.

Air and surface search for the two-man crew of the New Bedford trawler E-B proved unsuccessful. They were Capt. Farish Selig, skipper, and his son-in-law, Charles Wrisley, recently discharged from the Army.

A Coast Guard patrol found the wreckage of their 46-foot boat on the beach at Block Island, R. I. Absence of the trawler's dory spurred hope the men had left the ship before it broke up.

Maine meanwhile struggled with snow as deep as 24 inches deposited by the blizzard. At Jackman, near the Canadian border, where drifts built up the snow to 34 inches, a fall of three more inches was predicted.

Jail Term Delayed To Take Honeymoon

Detroit, Jan. 25. (AP) — Traffic Judge John D. Watts hadn't heard about Warren Krist's wedding plans when he sentenced him today to 15 days in the Detroit house of correction on a drunk driving charge.

But as soon as the word reached his honor's bench the start of the sentence was delayed until Monday to permit Krist to be married tonight and enjoy a brief honeymoon.

STATEN ISLAND PIERS BURN UP

High Flames Visible All Over New York; Entire Waterfront Menaced

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—A wind-whipped waterfront fire which destroyed four Staten Island piers, injured at least four firemen and sent up sheets of flame visible for thirty miles was reported under control at 11:40 p. m. tonight.

Acting Fire Chief Frank Murphy, who directed the four-hour battle by hundreds of firemen operating more than fifty pieces of land equipment and four fireboats, predicted parts of the wrecked piers would continue to burn all night.

All the piers destroyed in the five-alarm blaze were owned by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co., and housed freight warehouses. Locomotives hurriedly pulled 350 freight cars to safety from spark-showered yards adjoining the piers.

Three Coast Guard vessels and 14 commercial tugboats aided city fireboats in extinguishing the flames from the water side.

The cause of the fire was not determined. Damage was estimated by police and fire officials at a maximum of half a million dollars.

Willow Run Housing Aids U. M. Students

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP) — Federal authorities disclosed tonight that 1,000 dormitory units at the Willow Run project are to be made available to University of Michigan students, effective Saturday.

Charles B. Lawrence, Jr., regional commissioner for the Federal Public Housing Authority, said the dormitories originally were built for war workers.

They will be made available to single student veterans only at rentals of $15 a month per person for a double room and $21 a month for a single room.

Lawrence said the university has assumed responsibility for operation of a cafeteria and also will provide representatives in each of the eight dormitory buildings

HALF MILLION MINERS TAKEN IN FEDERATION

MAN WHO MADE CIO ELEVATED TO AFL COUNCIL SEAT

BY HAROLD W. WARD

Miami, Fla., Jan. 25. (AP)—John L. Lewis returned today to the American Federation of Labor which he split asunder a decade ago.

The big man who created the CIO, and then left it in a huff over the 1940 Roosevelt election, which he bitterly opposed, brought his 500,000 United Mine Workers back to the parent federation and was quickly elevated to a seat on the policy-making executive council.

He would not have come back without that place among the 15 all-powerful union heads on the council. Previously he turned a cold shoulder on re-affiliation without an assured council seat.

Green Sits Tight

AFL President William Green, mindful of the stories that Lewis' return to the federation boded an end to his reign of more than two decades, emphasized he would remain as president.

Lewis will be the 13th vice-president, but Green said the line of succession to the presidency is not numerical.

There was no mention of Lewis' brain-child—the CIO—which is locked in postwar wage struggles at present. CIO unions are striking in steel, electrical manufacturing, meat packing, General Motors, and similarly came to grips over pay in the oil refining and glass industries.

Green has made much of the absence of strikes among AFL unions. Lewis has a contract which can be reopened, if he chooses, prior to April 1, but he has not thus far lined up in the fight for continuation of wartime wages.

Return Of German Prisoners Held Up

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—President Truman today postponed for 60 days the scheduled return to Germany of prisoners of war working in this country.

The action was taken "principally in order to meet a temporary labor problem in the production of sugar beets, cotton and pulpwood."

Under the new order the prisoners will be withdrawn from labor starting April 1 and will be sent home by the end of June.

SAULT TO HAVE PLANE SERVICE

Pennsylvania - Central To Reopen Detroit Line In April

Sault Ste. Marie—Pennsylvania-Central Airlines Route 41, from Detroit into the Sault, will be resumed in April, exactly four years from the last flight to Northern Peninsula in April 1942—George N. Monro and Howard Kennedy, company officials here on an inspection tour, said today.

Whether the airlines planes will land at the Sault, Kinross or Raco airports will probably be decided today by the company officials following a tour of inspection of the three ports. Sault residents were assured of one thing, however, the flights will start in April.

Two engine passenger planes PCA's DC-3s, will be used on Route 41 which includes Sault, Pellston, Traverse City, Tri-City airport near Midland and Detroit.

Number of scheduled flights per day cannot be determined, because although there is a known demand for air travel, the equipment problem is the one which faces the airline said Kennedy. The north terminal setup, and the number of employes here will depend proportionately on the number of flights coming into and leaving the Sault, said Mr. Monro.

The PCA delegation who are traveling by automobile and were held up by ice last night in the Straits of Mackinac, said their experience gives them a wonderful idea just how necessary is air travel to the Northern Peninsula.

Should PCA select either Raco or Kinross airports for their northern terminal, passengers would be brought into the city by charter bus, said Mr. Kennedy. He said that in viewing the situation, the PCA must consider future air travel, and how adequate existing airports are should it become necessary to put the four-engine DC-4 60 passenger airplanes on Route 41.

Accompanying Mr. Monro and Mr. Kennedy, both of whom are assistants to the President C. Bedell Monro, are Ted Hardsty, in charge of ground operations, and Fred Moss, superintendent of building and ground facilities. They were being accompanied today by Bill Weddell, owner of the Weddell Flying Service in the Sault.

The U. S. Coast Guard, founded by Alexander Hamilton as the Revenue Cutter Service in 1790, has since absorbed the Life Saving Service, Bureau of lighthouses and Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation.

Law Officers Endorse Penalty Law For Minors

Law enforcements officers interested in the problem of reducing violation of the Michigan liquor laws by minors and licensees have voiced approval of a local ordinance proposed by the Delta County Tavern association which would provide penalties for minors who misrepresent their age, or otherwise use subterfuge to obtain alcoholic beverages.

The Tavern association is now circulating petitions asking city councils and township boards to adopt such an ordinance, and these will be presented as soon as a sufficient number of signatures are obtained.

At a meeting of the Delta County Tavern association held in Escanaba Thursday afternoon, about 75 persons connected with the dispensing of liquor in the county heard law enforcement officers voice approval of the proposed ordinance. Tom Swift of Bark River is president of the association and presided at the meeting.

Acting Prosecuting Attorney Torval E. Strom, who previously had advocated penalties for minors who violate the liquor laws, expressed his approval of the proposed ordinance. Sheriff William E. Miron described the proposed ordinance as an aid in law enforcement.

William Linaker of Escanaba, in charge of the investigating staff for the Liquor Control Commission in the Upper Peninsula, described the importance of the identification cards for persons between the ages of 21 and 24, inclusive, as a means of reducing violations of the law by drinking minors. The cards are issued at the office of the county clerk and the licensee should ask the patron to present them when there is doubt that the patron is under 21, Linaker advised.

Sid Stewart of Menominee, president of the U. P. Liquor Vendors Association, which is pushing adoption of the proposed ordinance in all U. P. counties, described the effectiveness of the ordinance in curbing violations by minors in Menominee county. Sucha law has been in effect in Menominee county since 1943.

Others attending the meeting included Peter Mench of Chippewa county, a director of the U. P. Liquor Vendors association; and Atty. Denis McGinn, Escanaba city attorney. Lee Wiles is secretary, and Mrs. Irene Johnson Brood is treasurer of the County Tavern association.

The proposed ordinance would prohibit juveniles from frequenting or loitering in establishments where liquor is sold, and would penalize them for obtaining or accepting liquor. The penalty upon conviction would be a fine of not more than $100 or a jail sentence.

Cold Wave Swept Far Into South

Washington—A cold wave bit deep into the South during the first part of the week just past, with frost as far down the map as Lake Okeechobee in southern Florida, but reports from field observers to U. S. Weather Bureau headquarters here indicate relatively little harm done. There was some damage to a few vegetable crops, but it was not widespread. Citrus fruits actually benefited from the chill, which delayed opening of their buds and slowed down the rise of sap.

There was heavy rain over practically the entire Southeast—a great deal too much, indeed, for the good of agriculture. Some of the Southern rivers went into flood stages.

Outside the rain area there was a zone of sleet and snow, which was fairly heavy in a strip from the Texas panhandle eastward through the border states. North and northwest of this area, however, the snow cover is thin, and while winter grains are still in good condition it would make farmers in the principal grain belt feel a lot better if the white blanket could be laid on a little thicker.

U. P. JOBLESS LIST GROWING

Over 12,000 Listed As Unemployed At End Of December

Statistics obtained by the U. S. Employment Service in the Upper Peninsula for the month of December indicate a slight increase in total employment in the area. The survey was conducted in 85 establishments in three categories, manufacturing, logging and lumbering and mining. Establishments in the manufacturing industries employ 200 or more workers each while those in logging and lumbering employ 50 or more workers, and in the mining establishments 100 or more workers.

Employment in the 85 reporting establishments was 21,080 in October, 22,537 in November and 22,637 in December. A gain of 1,000 is anticipated for January.

The manufacturing establishments, numbering 19, employed persons in October, 8242 in November and 8439 in December. Employment is expected to reach 8830 by April of this year.

The logging and lumbering industry reported a drop in employment from 5590 in October to 5343 in December, with the sharpest drop coming from October to November. Reports were received from 46 establishments.

The iron ore and copper mining establishments reported total employment of 8783 in December, a slight decrease from November when 8808 persons were employed.

A sharp increase in job applicants was reported by the U. S. Employment Service in December. There were 9753 registrations on Dec. 1 and 12,762 on Dec. 31, including 1247 women and 7526 veterans. Veterans registration increased 50 per cent during the month and accounted for 59 per cent of the total active registrations at the end of the month.

The number of unemployment compensation claims paid increased from an average weekly figure of 7795, of which 2941 were veterans, in November to 9843 in December, including 5281 veterans.

In summarizing its monthly report, the U. S. Employment Service emphasized that although the number of applicants is greatly in excess of job openings, there is no hope of filling all jobs immediately.

"It must be borne in mind that 59 per cent of the applicants registered for employment are veterans of World War II. The majority of these veterans had little or no work experience before entering military service, and although they have acquired skills while in service, it is very difficult to find jobs in the major industries of the area to which these skills can be applied. Also many of the civilians now registered as unemployed worked in war plants in the larger industrial area and acquired highly paid skills which cannot be utilized in the logging or mining industries," the USES news letter revealed. It added that lack of housing is also a factor which acts as a deterrent in getting workers, particularly miners, to accept referrals to job openings in other localities.

Any employers or establishments who have not received the news letter but wish to have a copy mailed to them in the future, may contact the local USES office, 1323 Ludington street, and be placed on the mailing list.

HH PRIORITIES NOW AVAILABLE

Veterans Get Preferred Rating In Housing Construction

The new priority system to expedite construction of new housing for World War II veterans is now in effect in Michigan.

FHA State Director George W. Zinky, in making the announcement at his Detroit office, said that he has received supplies of application forms for "HH housing" under the Reconversion Housing Program and that he has special instructions from Washington headquarters for quick handling of the applications.

These forms are available at all FHA offices for individual veterans who want to build their own homes, as well as for builders who want to erect more buildings for sale or rental for which veterans will be given preference.

The priority applications and all the procedures have been designed to effect speedy and efficient operation in such a manner as to assure that findings are consistent and reasonable, Mr. Zinky said. He added that his office will make every effort to avoid delay in processing the applications, and pointed out that this processing is done by the FHA without reference to the type of financing proposed.

Simplicity is stressed in the entire preference rating system, in an effort to get maximum construction of moderate-cost housing underway as speedily as possible.

Start In 90 Days

The Civilian Production Administration, through the National Housing Agency, delegated to the Federal Housing Administration the task of processing the HH applications and issuing the new HH preference ratings under which it is anticipated that about half of the critically short materials produced in 1945 will be made available for construction of homes for veterans costing $10,000 or renting for $80 or less.

Materials to which HH priorities will apply include common and face brick, clay sewer pipe, structural tile, gypsum board, gypsum lath, cast iron pipe and fittings, cast iron radiation, bathtubs, lumber and millwork. OPA has announced that additions to or deletions from this schedule may be made from time to time.

Priority Regulation 33 requires that applicants must furnish description of the structures they plan to build and the price or rental at which they will make it available to veterans. The FHA must be satisfied that the proposed sale price or rent is reasonably related to the proposed accommodation.

The regulation further requires that applicants must show they will be ready to start construction within 90 days and demonstrate that they have effective control of the land, that financing is assured, and that arrangements have been made for local building permits, utility services and the like.

Applicants must agree to make the housing available only to veterans during the period of construction and for 30 days thereafter. In his sales agreement, the veteran or other purchaser is pledged to the same 30-day waiting period in case of a re-sale, and the sale must be made at or below the maximum sales price originally paid.

Conversion of existing structures also is made possible by the regulation, where it is shown that increased dwelling units will result. It also covers construction of dormitories or group housing for educational institutions for the benefit of veterans. Housing already under construction may be brought under the Reconversion Housing Program if it meets the standards set in Priorities Regulation 33.

It was emphasized by Mr. Zinky that while the $10,000 sales price, which includes land and improvements, or the $80 a month rental, are maximum figures, every effort will be made to encourage the production of housing at price levels much under the $10,000 maximum as feasible.

Grayling Sportsmen To Have Bobcat Hunt

Grayling—A bobcat hunt staged by the Grayling Sportsmen's club will be a feature of the annual winter carnival February 15-17.

The hunt is to be held February 16 with a limited number of hunters participating, reservations to be made in advance with the sportsmen's group.

The carnival will be held at the Grayling winter recreation area, operated this season by the conservation department's parks and recreation division.

Army Recruiting Office Here Has Several Openings

The chance-of-a-lifetime awaits several Escanaba young men, according to an announcement made yesterday by Captain John E. McCarthy, commanding officer of the Escanaba Army Recruiting Office. For, as a result of present vacancies in the Escanaba recruiting staff, qualified men who reenlist in the United States Army now will have the opportunity to be stationed right here in Escanaba, for recruiting duty.

Captain McCarthy emphasized the fact that applicants must be qualified for recruiting work, with a background of military experience. He also stated that men in the recruiting service are selected for intelligence, excellent character, appearance, tact, energy, diligence and ability.

"Upon the men chosen for recruiting work here in Escanaba", added Captain McCarthy, "as upon all their associates, depends the success of the program to build up the Regular Army to meet our country's needs to protect the victory recently won at such great cost. Every man in the recruiting service has been assigned to this work because of his ability to sell men on the advantages of a real job and the best career in the world today—an enlistment in the Regular Army of the United States."

Army veterans who are interested in this opportunity to get into recruiting work can get further information at the Escanaba Army Recruiting Office, Post Office Building, now open from 8:15 A. M. to 5 P. M. daily, and Saturdays until noon.

Seney

Seney, Mich.—Mrs. Betty Friedmaker and small daughter have returned to Pontiac after an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Smithson

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Loyd from Manistique were Seney visitors Sunday.

Gerald Lustilla narrowly escaped serious injury, when he was hit by a swinging log, while unloading logs for Schneider Bros. at their Seney Banking grounds. He was taken to the Newberry clinic where X-rays showed severe bruises of the chest and shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Saddler are enjoying a weeks vacation with friends and relatives in Pontiac and Detroit. Robert McDowell and Elsie Hyvonen have charge of the store and post office.

Among Manistique callers Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Furst, Mrs. Milo Gonser Sr., Mrs. J. J. Riordan, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Ward and Dave Warchuck.

William Boonenberg Jr. has returned from a short visit with relatives at Detroit.

Edward Hyvonen has received his discharge from the army and arrived home Wednesday from service in Japan.

Alvin McDowell has received his discharge from the Navy and will arrive home Saturday.

Blaine and Frank Short have received their discharge from service and are expected home soon.

The 4-H girls or "Educational Sewing Club" entertained the boys of "The Busy Beavers" at a party Friday evening, Jan. 18th at the school house under the leadership of Mrs. Norman Nelson. Games provided the entertainment with prizes going to Sue Ketola, Margaret Till, Norma Nelson, Henry Ketola, Don Sadler, Tom Hazel, and George Bigger. A delicious lunch was served after the games. Members present were Sue and Henry Ketola, Tom and Pat Hazel Avis and Bruce McArthur, Mervin and William Hollingshead, George and Raymond Bigger, Bob Purple, James Ward, Don Sadler, Theresa Brunette, Margaret Tull, Norma Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ward have sold their home to Mr. and Mrs. Matt Shimers from Wyandotte and are moving to Detroit Monday where they have bought a new home.

Expect C&NW Will Soon Resume Sleeper Service

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that it has been reliably informed that the Chicago and North Western Railroad expects to resume sleeper service between Escanaba and Chicago about Feb. 15, when an Office of Defense Transportation restriction order on Pullman service is lifted.

Sleeper service was suspended a year ago as an emergency war measure on order of ODT, which ruled out all sleeper service in railroad runs for 450 miles or less. This order was countermanded last week.

The Chamber of Commerce reported that it had been requested by the railroad to conduct a canvass to determine whether the majority of local persons would prefer to have the southbound sleeper lay over in Milwaukee and arrive in Chicago at 8:15 a. m. rather than at 6:45 a. m. To accomplish this delay the southbound Pullman would lay over in Milwaukee for about two hours with its sleeping passengers.

Consensus of those persons contacted by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce favored the proposed change.

Resumption of service will put the Pullman car on southbound train No. 162 which will leave Escanaba at 8:50 p. m., and will arrive in Chicago at 6:45 a. m., unless the proposal to lay over in Milwaukee is adopted, when the sleeper would arrive in Chicago at 8:15 a. m.

The Pullman will come back on the northbound train No. 161 which will leave Chicago at 6:30 p. m. and arrive in Escanaba at 4:15 a. m. There is no change proposed in this schedule.

If sleeper service is resumed the Pullman would be on the run to its northern terminal at Ishpeming.

There has been no definite order from the railroad to resume sleeper service, but the Chamber of Commerce has been advised by reliable sources that it is indicated service will be restored about Feb. 15.

COLLEGE GETS $60,000 GIFT

Worcesters Of Chicago Aid Building Fund At Lawrence

Appleton, Wis.—A recent gift of $60,000 from the Charles H. Worcesters, Chicago, brings the fund for a new fine arts building at Lawrence college to $260,000 and the total amount available for post war building to more than one-half million dollars, President Nathan M. Pusey announced today.

Largest single item in Lawrence's building project is the erection of the Fine Arts Center, entirely the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Worcester, who in 1943 gave $200,000 for the purpose and recently added to the original sum. The center will include a little Theater an area for art exhibitions, studios for work in graphic arts and facilities for an extensive crafts program.

President Pusey also revealed that in addition to the gift from the Chicago couple a total of $275,000 has been given by friends of the college and local industries for further building projects, which will include extensive remodeling of the Stephenson Hall of Science, completion of the remodeling of Main Hall begun in 1941 and refurnishing the interior of Memorial Chapel.

An additional building project, the erection of a $150,000 Memorial Student Union joining the women's gymnasium and the observatory tower, is being carried out by the Lawrence Alumni Association as a gift to the college in 1947, the centennial year. Work on the Fine Arts Center and the remodeling projects will begin as soon as labor and materials are available.

Mr. Worcester, who has made possible the financing of the arts building is a member of the board of trustees of Lawrence College and is honorary president and trustee of the Chicago Art Institute, in which capacity he acted as chairman of the committee coordinating the Institute with the Chicago World's Fair in 1933. He is connected with The C. H. Worcestor Company, the Munising Paper Company, the Ontonagon Fibre Company and the Masonite Corporation.

MANY "LIFERS" NOT HARDENED

Majority Of Murderers In State Were Never Before In Jail

Lansing, Jan. 26—(AP)—Statistics compiled on Michigan's 580 men serving life sentences for first degree murder disprove a common belief that a majority of murders are committed by "hardened criminals," Sydney Moskowitz, State Parole Examiner, said today.

Moskowitz said that 325 of the first degree lifers had never previously been arrested for any violation of the law.

He reported that 70 per cent of the men had never been in prison before although some had jail or probation records for minor offenses. Of the 170 who had served prison sentences before conviction for murder, 102 had only one previous prison term.

Although many persons believe that most prisoners serving life sentences for murder are convicted on a not guilt plea, Moskowitz declared, the survey showed that approximately 45 per cent, or 253 of the lifers, pleaded guilty at their trials.

The largest number of convictions, 235, came to men between the ages of 21 and 29. The survey showed that 144 were in their 30's, and 82 in their 40's. However, there were 20 convictions of persons between 15 and 17 years of age and 10 of men over 60 years of age.

The report indicates, Moskowitz explained, that many of the younger men are convicted as the result of complicity in a robbery which results in a killing rather than in a deliberate murder.

The most wide-use murder method, as shown by the survey, is shooting, which accounted for 399 of the murders committed. Other common methods were stabbing, of which there were 49 cases, and beating, which caused the death of 39 victims. There were few vicious murders among the 580 convictions although there were eight hatchet and 11 hammer murders and one victim was buried alive.

The survey showed that 416 of the lifers were white, and 143 negro, and 332 single, 185 married and 45 divorced.

The Waterloo recreation area in Jackson county is being used by the conservation department as an outdoor laboratory for improvement of fishing in southern Michigan, and as a testing ground for many game management practices.

Mrs. George Hogan Claimed By Death

Mrs. George Hogan, 53, the former Florence Lemance, died yesterday morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. Florence Daley, 305 North Tenth street, following an illness of several years duration.

Mrs. Hogan was born on April 25, 1892, in Green Bay, Wis., and came here with her parents when she was a child. She had lived in Escanaba for 45 years, and was a member of St. Patrick's church. She is survived by one brother, Anton Lemance.

The body will be in state at the Allo funeral home this evening at 7 o'clock. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church, the Rev. Fr. Martin Melican officiating. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Arenac County Has Largest Oil and Gas Field Development

Lansing—Biggest activity in oil and gas field development in Michigan in 1945 was in Arenac county.

The conservation department, announcing that 755 permits to drill oil and gas wells were issued last year as compared with 741 the previous year, lists Arenac in top place with 115 permits, Allegan and Isabella counties tied for second with 73 each, and others in the first 10 in the following order: Mecosta 57, Van Buren 46, Osceola 42, Bay 40, Montcalm 39, Ottawa 38, Clare 33.

Since September 1927 when first permits were issued, a total of 12,068 oil and gas drilling ventures have been undertaken in Michigan.

Greatest activity in that period has been in Allegan county, with a total of 1493 permits. Others in the first 10 are: Midland 1022, Van Buren 996, Isabella 979, Gladwin 711, Muskegon 702, Montcalm 682 Clare 579, Kent 557 Ottawa 505.

FARRELL NAMED STATE OPA HEAD

Appointed Successor To Earl Fitzgerald, Resigned

W. Earl Fitzgerald, Michigan district OPA director at Detroit, has resigned effective Feb. 1, and La'wrence L. Farrell, director of the former Saginaw-Escanaba district, has been named to succeed him as acting director.

Fitzgerald's resignation was submitted to John F. Kessel, regional administrator at Cleveland, who immediately named Farrell to the vacancy. Farrell has been Fitzgerald's assistant since the Jan. 1 consolidation of the four Michigan districts.

News From Men In The Service

Pearl Harbor, T. H.—Clinton W. Farrell, Cox, of Escanaba, Mich. is one of 1,600 high-point Navy veterans whom the Navy is returning to the States for discharge aboard the U. S. S. LOWNDES, which left Pearl Harbor, January 15, and is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco about January 21.

The U. S. S. LOWNDES is an attack transport of the type which supported the seizure of stepping-stone bases to the Japanese home islands and maintained continous supply lines to the Fleet, to ground troops and to land-based air forces.

MUCC Reports 510 Registrations Here

The Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission reports that in the area served by the Escanaba office, which includes Delta, Schoolcraft and northern Menominee counties, there was a total of 510 registered for unemployment benefits for the week ending January 19th. Of these, 206 were women.

The Escanaba area's payable unemployed for the week included 171 women and 229 men, or a total of 400.

The claims reported are confined to those filed under the State Unemployment Compensation Law and excludes claims for readjustment allowances filed by unemployed veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

IF IT'S ALL ELECTRIC IT WILL BE Safe - Convenient - Comfortable
The three things you'll want most in your new home are safety — convenience and comfort and by planning to make it all electric you can get all three, for the swing is to electricity as the modern economical household servant.
It's the service that's handy, quick and always on the job to do any household task. It can take the drudgery out of time wasting-work, make extra leisure time for the busy housewife and is ready to serve cheaply its many duties at the flick of a switch or a push of a button.
So plan your new home on the all electric plan . . . it will save you money . . . provide hours for activities and play that were formerly spent in household work . . . and you'll be amazed at how little it will cost for how much it will do.
Electricity is the modern household servant

Atomic Tests Planned

THE effect of atomic bombs on naval warships will be determined in tests to be conducted this year in the Marshall islands area of the Pacific and the results of these tests will go a long ways towards determining our problem of national defense in the future.

A mammoth target fleet has been selected for the tests—97 vessels in all, including a number of warships that made outstanding naval records in the recent war. The target vessels include all types of warships—battleships, carriers, cruisers, destroyers, even submarines. The actual results of the tests will show the force of atomic explosions on each category.

Since the tests will be applied in three phases—explosion of atomic bombs first several hundred feet above the target fleet, then at sea level and finally underwater—the experiments will reveal the maximum effectiveness of atomic bombs when applied against naval vessels.

The cost of the operation is tremendous, involving as it does many, many millions of dollars of warships, but the ships are mainly obsolete and could hardly be effectively utilized in any imaginable warfare of the future.

It is absolutely essential for any national defense program to first determine just what the problem of national defense comprises in this day of atomic energy. When the first atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima, it opened an entire new conception of warfare. It may even have destroyed the importance of naval warfare as we know it. That is one of the things that we shall learn from the atomic tests against the target fleet in the Pacific.

Effective Propaganda

WE MUST take our hats off to the Germans when it comes to dishing out effective propaganda. Or perhaps, the Germans, particularly the frauleins, have read Dale Carnegie's book on how to win friends and influence people.

A U. S. army poll of a cross section of the occupation forces in Germany reveals that 19 per cent of the GI's thought Germany had some justification for starting the war and 51 per cent that Hitler had done much good in the Reich prior to the war. The poll was taken last fall when the Nazi concentration camp atrocities were still fresh in everyone's minds.

What is happening is that the Germans are working overtime to make the outside world think that they were not a menace to peace, after all. Before long, they will have the public believing some other country started the war.

The German people still believe the potent propaganda that was administered them by Hitler, Goebbels and other Nazi leaders. So firm is their belief that they can offer very convincing arguments to their conquerors.

Unless the thinking of the German people change, they will be ready for another Hitler to come along and lead them within a few years.

He Worked Too Hard

WORK hard if you want to get ahead in this world. This was supposed to be good advice in the good old days, but apparently it's all the bunk now.

At least, Charles F. Samalot of Grand Rapids learned it does not pay to put in a good day's work. Back from fighting the Japs, the 39-year-old veteran was glad to get a job at the Grand Rapids brewery. He enjoyed his work, but now after seven months of faithful service he is out of a job.

It is not his employer's fault, however. The brewery workers' union cancelled his work permit because he worked too hard, setting a pace that "showed" up the other workers.

The reader may draw his own moral from the story.

Prevent Tragedy

IT MAY appear dull reading for a person to study information on how to prevent fire in the home or in industry, because the home or place of work seems secure from the ravages of fire. But few things can pay bigger dividends to a family or to workers in an industry, than the study and practice of fire prevention.

We are prone to feel that fire will never strike us individually. It seems impossible that a small home could become a death trap due to fire, or that fire could move so rapidly in a factory that many occupants could not escape, and yet every day we read where whole families have been wiped out or where numbers of persons have been burned in buildings where they were employed.

A recent example was in the city of Portland, Ore., where fire trapped three boys in a second story of their home. Two of the brothers were burned to death. Another tragedy on the opposite side of the continent was the hospital fire in Hartford, Conn., where supposedly defective wiring on a Christmas tree is believed to have started the fire. Sixteen lives were taken.

These are but two instances of over 10,000 deaths that occur annually in the United States from fire. Most of these lives could be saved by a determination on the part of individuals to study fire prevention methods and do their best to eliminate hazards in their homes and places of work.

STATE'S RANKING INDUSTRIES
(Marinette Eagle-Star)

During a recent forest crop hearing here it was rather casually announced that Marinette county's forest crop area now totals 217,760 acres. This means Marinette now is one of the ranking counties in the state in this respect, which fact has a highly significant bearing on the future of the county when the value of forest-linked products are considered.

The comprehensive bulletin compiled last August by the state planning board reveals that the leading related industries of the state, both from the standpoint of number of employes and value of their products, are those which manufacture motor vehicles, bodies, parts and accessories. Second in industrial importance are the paper and paperboard mills. Ironically, while Wisconsin has the largest pulp industry of three states—Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota—almost twice as large as Michigan and Minnesota combined, it has the smallest volume of pulpwood.

Wisconsin's paper industry must go outside the state to secure a large part of the pulpwood consumed. The source of pulpwood used by Wisconsin's pulp mills in 1937—latest year on which figures are available— was estimated to be Michigan 294,100 cords, Minnesota 138,900, Canada 115,000, foreign and other 80,106 and Wisconsin 455,300. In other words Wisconsin provided a little more than 42 per cent of the pulpwood which is so vital to the industry that ranks second both in number of persons employed and value of its products.

In this connection, it is interesting to note the number of important products in which the state ranks high. In the dairy products group, the state ranks first in cheese and condensed and evaporated milk and third in creamery butter. Minnesota and Iowa lead the Badger state in butter because they concentrate on butter, being farther from fluid milk markets. Of other farm-linked manufactures, leather tanning and leather products, footwear and gloves are among those in which Wisconsin is important.

Wisconsin ranks only sixth in canning of fruits and vegetables due to the fact that little fruit is packed in this state. In individual vegetables, Wisconsin ranks first in green peas, in wax-pod beans, and in mixed vegetables, second in beets and kraut and third in carrots.

Despite that the state has no smelteries, the importance of heavy metal products is outstanding. The state ranks second in the nation in the production of tractors and first in internal-combustion engines and near the top in other agricultural machinery.

OPENING UP
(Iron Mountain News)

The first upper peninsula man to get into the field for election to Congress is Joseph A. LaFramboise, of Gladstone, who will contest the Republican nomination in the Eleventh with Representative Bradley. He took on Bradley without success two years ago. Whether he will have better luck this year depends, it would seem, largely on how well Bradley has held the strength he had at that time.

All is quiet as yet on the political front in the Twelfth. It may be assumed that Andrew Asikainen will seek the nomination of some party or other. He has boxed the compass, and should by now be ready to start over again. It is also a reasonable assumption that Congressman Hook will seek renomination by the Democrats. If common report some months ago was correct he had his eye on the Democratic senatorial nomination. If Mr. Frankensteen had been elected mayor of Detroit it possbily would have been worth having, if the General Motors strike had not come off, two highly important 'ifs." As matters stand a Democratic nomination for senator probably would have no more than honorably significance. And when it comes to politics Mr. Hook is of the earth earthy. The odds run that one of these days he will announce that he is willing to favor the district with service in another term, if the voters are willing.

Whether Mr. Bennett will seek the Republican nomination and whether if he does he can have it for the asking are other questions still to be answered. He has had a series of lively and closely contested bouts with Mr. Hook. He not unlikely will want another. He ought to find encouragement in the prospect that the CIO-PAC vote will not be as hefty in the district as it was two years ago. The dues paying members in November next will be materially fewer than they were in November, 1944. Mr. Hook had them hook, line and sinker in that year. As he has cultivated them assiduously in the interval, it is probable that he would have them on the same terms this year.

But his margin in 1944 was not overly large. On the face of things Mr. Bennett should find considerable reason for challenging him to another bout.

New alarm clocks have been announced that light the bed lamp, turn on the radio and start a soft, whisper alarm. Now, if they could only cook!

ENGLISH AS SHE IS WROTE

My readers have eyes that would shame the eagle. The loony logics which they spot, clip, and mail to me enliven my days, and provide me with splendid material for articles on how not to write good English.

From an Ohio society column: "Mr. C—— is employed as a mechanic in a Pandora, Ohio, implement store, where the couple will reside."

From a California daily: ". . . pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving in Police Judge Luven's court."

From a fiction story by Martha Albrand, Saturday Evening Post: ". . . promising to marry him on the open deck of a Fifth Avenue bus."

From a California daily: "A plane apparently was launched from a submarine which flew over the area."

From an Ohio society column: ". . . the guest of honor, Mrs. D——, who was presented with many nice gifts, and her husband."

From a caption in an Illinois daily: "Robert H. M.——, whose wife is president and who is one of the hardest working of the husbands."

From a Nebraska weekly: "E. M. B—— ran into a fence on horseback."

Misplaced modifiers must be guarded against. Writers, especially professional writers, should carefully (and prayerfully) proofread every line so that embarrassing errors such as the foregoing may be avoided.

Trying to write "elegantly" is the cause of most bad writing. We should strive for simplicity and lucidity, avoiding long, involved sentences that become strangled by their own syntax.

Here is the horrible example to end all horrible examples. It was clipped from a newspaper article by a learned author. I have never read a more shrdluvianistical sentence: "The empirical quantum of the gravitational equation bridges the corpuscles of the material exchantology by subliminal energy evolved counter-clockwise out of analageus infinities."

See what I mean?

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—One of the chronic gripes of the GI during the war was the privileges and prerogatives enjoyed by officers as contrasted with the ordinary soldier. The officers got the fine clubs, they got the liquor, they monopolized the time of the Red Cross girls.

Childs

Thus went the familiar complaint in every theater in which there were any privileges and prerogatives to be enjoyed. Now congress has discovered that this inequality extends to demobilization.

Officers in both the army and navy are entitled to terminal leave. Depending on the amount of leave they have accumulated—four months is the maximum—they can take time, on full pay with allowances, to look around for a job and begin the process of readjustment to civilian life.

Enlisted men in the two services do not have the same privilege. They must go to a separation center and there wait out the process of final discharge.

—OFFICERS HAVE ADVANTAGE—

As Dr. Howard A. Rusk pointed out in a recent article in the New York Times, this gives the officer a great advantage over the enlisted man. It tends to make the process of adjustment much easier for the officer, says Dr. Rusk who, as a colonel in the army air forces, worked out the air forces' splendid rehabilitation program.

Today the combat enlisted man goes directly to a separation center. He is discharged as rapidly as possible and, when he gets his final discharge papers, he is out of the army. This means that he cannot avail himself of army medical facilities. The officer, in contrast, in his months of terminal leave, can go into an army or navy hospital instead of having to take his chances in a crowded veterans' hospital.

For some months, Congress has been hammering away at this inequity. There must be a dozen bills which have been introduced in the house alone. The war department was asked to submit figures on the cost of extending the privilege of terminal leave to enlisted men as well as officers.

The war department's recommendations were submitted to the bureau of the budget, which has not yet passed on them. They put the cost at the staggering figure of $2,788,000,000, which would cover both officers and men.

Admiral Louis J. Denfeld, chief of the navy's bureau of personnel, told congressmen some time ago that the cost for the navy would be approximately $1,500,000,000. He recommended the extension of the leave privilege to enlisted men but pointed out that the cost would be considerable.

The reason the cost would be so great—more than $4,000,000,000 for both services—is because the privilege would be made retroactive. Both on Capitol Hill and in the services, the feeling is that those who have already been discharged without benefit of terminal leave should at least get the additional financial compensation.

—WOULD PROMOTE INFLATION—

But the millions of men already out of uniform would not get the kind of benefit that terminal leave is meant to give—the cushioning of the shock of transition between military and civilian life. For them, it would be merely a kind of bonus. Inevitably it would feed the present trend toward inflation.

Just to put such a program into effect would take a vast governmental machine. The war department estimates that 3000 clerks would have to work three months just to set up the system.

In spite of all this, there seems to be a fairly good chance that a congress acutely sensitive to GI grievances will adopt a bill granting terminal leave to all service men and women, officers and enlisted personnel alike. No mention of the proposal was made in the President's message on Monday.

Representative Mike Mansfield of Montana, a liberal Democrat, is one of the most active sponsors of the proposal. He introduced a bill last fall calling for equalization of the leave privilege.

The sad fact, of course, is that this was not done at the outset of the war, so that it would have been accepted as a part of the war's cost. Some of the headaches of demobilization might then have been avoided.

Good Luck, Chum!

(This is the second in a series of three columns on the history of lighthouses in Delta county.)

ESCANABA LIGHTHOUSE — Yesterday we told you something about Point Peninsula lighthouse, now out of commission, and the men who operated it for 70 years.

Dunathan

Today's subjects will be the lighthouses at Escanaba and Squaw Point on Little Bay de Noc. Both are in operation.

Escanaba had a railroad before it had a lighthouse, and perhaps if it had not been for the railroad there would have been no lighthouse. For in 1863 the Chicago & North Western Railway company broke ground at Sand Point (the future Escanaba) and began construction of a line between Escanaba and Negaunee. The first railroad engine was brought to Escanaba by boat. When navigation was open an occasional steamer touched at Escanaba and sailing craft were common.

In the period from 1863 to 1867, when the lighthouse was built by the government, Escanaba really boomed. The late E. P. Royce surveyed the town site, and the plat was filed for record in July, 1864. Besides the railroad there were boarding houses, stores, an ore dock, a few dwellings.

* * *

THE FIRST LIGHT —A light at Sand Point to aid shipping was maintained for several years by the North Western Railroad before the government lighthouse was completed in 1867. According to a "History of the Upper Peninsula" published in Chicago in 1883, "It was a small affair but its service was recognized as valuable in the absence of better facilities."

* * *

WHAT VISITORS SEE—Today the Escanaba lighthouse is not the same as the original structure erected in 1867. It was rebuilt in 1939 and the upper part of the tower was removed. The light itself was located farther out from shore on a crib. From the historical standpoint, and the esthetic also, the lighthouse tower might well have been left and maintained in its original condition. Removal of the light to the crib may have been a practical improvement, but razing of a portion of the old tower was pictorial suicide, say local folks interested in such things.

Even without the old tower, visitors still find the lighthouse building near the yacht basin a point of attraction, says Dan Garrett, lightkeeper. In the pre-1939 days visitors wanted to climb the tower and see the light. Now they ask Garrett if he will take them out to the crib light in his boat.

The lighthouse station grounds are neatly maintained, the buildings gleam white, and the flag waves every day of the year. The building is now 79 years old, was erected at the beginning of the boom following the Civil War, yet it does not show its age. Its bricks were laid solidly to withstand the years.

* * *

IN THOSE DAYS—The lighthouse is one of the few buildings of its period still standing in Escanaba. When its light first started shining (an oil lamp behind a large glass prism) mail was being carried to Escanaba from Green Bay by pony express, overland in summer, on the shore ice in winter. Later the amount of shipping increased by leaps and bounds as the volume of iron ore increased and the town grew.

Sailing ships made their way, amid many unlighted and uncharted hazards, to the port of Escanaba. In 1879 the schooner D. A. Wells of Milwaukee went aground on a shoal near St. Martin's Island (in Delta county) and the people of the island removed 5,000 bushels of grain from her hold to prevent a total wreck. Fishing had been poor that season and the island folk found the wreck a godsend—for they sold the grain at 95 cents a bushel.

* * *

SQUAW POINT LIGHT — As Escanaba built up and prospered Gladstone remained little more than a fishing settlement for a few years, and then began to forge ahead as the Soo Line railroad completed its tracks to Gladstone in 1887. Another shipping port of importance was born.

Grain and flour, coal and iron ore were to make Gladstone "a rival of Chicago." That it did not attain this goal was not the fault of its planners. At any rate, the government built a lighthouse at Squaw Point on Little Bay de Noc opposite Gladstone in 1897 as an aid to shipping. There was a tower and a dwelling for the lightkeeper, but the house burned about 20 years ago, and now the automatic light is maintained by Garrett from the Escanaba station.

The tower still houses in its top the warning light. It has a red sector in the southeast quarter of its glass, warning shipping of the shoal water in that direction. The light is easily approached by water, but a short walk is required to reach it by land. The roadway leads through the once-popular Maywood rsort but does not continue to the lighthouse. Many visitors leave their cars and walk along the shore to the lighthouse, and Maywood continues to be a place for Sunday picnics.

(Tomorrow's column will tell the story of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse, newest and largest lighthouse in Delta County.)

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

Washington—Quickly accepting a climatic senate vote of 76 to 19 as sealing the overthrow of his bonus vote, President Roosevelt today sent orders down the line to pay off the $2,491,000,000 soldiers' bill as quickly as "accuracy will permit."

William Butler, well known resident of Escanaba, passed away at 11:45 o'clock Sunday night at the family home, 1009 Second avenue north, following a week's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ahern of this city are the parents of a son, born Sunday night at St. Joseph's hospital in Menominee. Mrs. Ahern is the former Cecile Stack, daughter of the late Auditor General and Mrs. John K. Stack.

A fervent and telling plea in defense of the Escanaba Community Forum and the principles upon which it is founded, was delivered before members of the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday by Charles Follo Jr., one of the founders of the organization in this city.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. What is the meaning of the following address; U. S. S. ATR —4?

A. The U. S. S. ATR 4 is an auxiliary rescue tug.

Q. Is there a State bonus in Rhode Island?

A. Only three states — New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts—at present have bonuses for veterans.

Q. Can a discharged serviceman wear the discharge emblem that is sewn on his uniform at time of discharge on his civilian clothes?

A. No, the discharge emblem may be worn only on the uniform when the man is discharged and is not to be worn on civilian clothes. The honorable service lapel button is to be worn on civilian clothes.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. Were there any knockdowns in the Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibbons heavyweight title bout.

A. No. The bout, which was staged at Shelby, Montana, July 4, 1923, went the full scheduled distance of 15 rounds.

Q. My employer gave his entire staff war bonds as a Christmas "bonus". Must we declare the bonus on our income tax returns this year?

A. Each one must report the sum paid for the bonds by the employer when he reports income for 1945.

Q. Have any of the original works of Praxiteles survived?

A. Only the statue of Hermes, holding Dionysus in his arms. It was unearthed at Olympia in 1877. His other works survive only in copies.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Q. Do you have a recipe for "Near Possum"?

A. It is made of a slice of pork steak (about one pound) with a stuffing composed of two large sweet potatoes put thru the colander, sweetened with two tablespoons of brown sugar and the same amount of molasses, mixed with a beaten egg. Roll up the steak, tie it securely, rub the outside with butter or a butter substitute, put it in a baking pan with 2 cups of water and cook until the meat is thoroughly done.

Q. My little girl accidentally spilled a whole bottle of perfume on one of my best dresses. Is there anything that will remove the stain?

A. On white materials the spots may be removed by sponging with peroxide of hydrogen; on colored fabrics, if the color has been removed by the alcohol in the perfume, nothing can be done.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Worst hell-hole in the Pacific is Okinawa. Key stepping stone in the conquest of Japan, Okinawa was bad during the war. G. I.'s who have served there five months since say that today it isn't much better. One hundred thousand troops jampacked on the island get in each other's way, have little recreation, poor food, are terribly home-sick.

Pearson

As long as Tokyo is occupied by the American army, Okinawa lacks military value. Perhaps recognizing this, perhaps also realizing crowded conditions on the Pacific's chief hell-hole, Gen. W. D. Styler, overall commander of AFWESPAC (armed forces West Pacific) in Manila, sent a radiogram to OBASCOM (Okinawa Base Command), Brig. Gen. Lawrence A. Lawson, commander, stating that shipping was available to speed up Okinawa demobilization and might "effect reduction to 1 July troop strength by end of February."

In other words, home-sick men scheduled to remain at Okinawa until July 1 would get the welcome bonanza of leaving by March 1. Twelve ships were available to move troops out of Okinawa.

The radiogram reached General Lawson on Christmas day, at a time when G. I.'s were thinking most about home. General Lawson, however, radioed General Styler that he did not need the ships, that he could not reduce his personnel any faster than previously scheduled. This column is able to publish an exact copy of his telegram as follows:

—12 SHIPS UNNEEDED—

"From: OBASCOM (Okinawaw Base Command)

To: AFWESPAC, Armed Forces West Pacific)

"Following ships assigned to this route for December are excess to army ground and service force needs: Alnitah, Hamblin, Sea Marlin, Prince George, Sherburne, Cape Perpetur, Cape Cleare, Sea Sturgeon, Sea Quail, John D. Floyd, Typhoon, and Taladega. Estimated requirements for January army and service forces based on a point-score level drop to 50 points 42 months for EM (Enlisted Men) and 70 points 48 months for officers will be as follows: EM 6,500 officers 209 reenlistees 2,000 total 8,709.

"Request shipping for this base be adjusted accordingly."

General Tyler's message and Lawson's reply were copied by enlisted men in the Okinawa radio station. General Lawson heard about the leak. Whereupon, military police were ordered to search soldiers and confiscate all copies of the Styler correspondence. Traffic was even stopped on Okinawa highways, and all vehicles and personnel searched for copies of the forbidden literature.

General Lawson is now being transferred back to the U. S. A. Rumor has it that General Eisenhower did not approve of what happened. General Lawson's permanent army rank is lieutenant colonel. Under army tables of organization, when an officer's complement of men is reduced, his rank also may be reduced.

—INSIDE STEEL STRIKE—

During hectic backstage conferences which preceded the steel strike, President Truman sat between two groups of advisers—an anti-labor group headed by St. Louis Banker John Snyder and a pro-labor faction headed by Postmaster General Bob Hannegan, also from St. Louis.

Inside fact is that the Hannegan group opposed the calling of Phil Murray and U. S. Steel's Ben Fairless to the White House.

Instead, Hannegan advisers pointed out that, while Phil Murray could speak for the CIO, Fairless could not speak for Wall Street. They also warned that this was more than one isolated battle between labor and management. Instead it was an overall battle of the decade, between Wall Street on one side and the entire CIO on the other. For that reason, Hannegan urged Truman to call in the real strong men of Wall Street, including:

(1) Alfred P. Sloan, boss of General Motors; (2) Tom Lamont, chief voice of J. P. Morgan, which dominates U. S. Steel; (3) Charles E. Wilson of General Electric; (4) Eugene Grace of Bethlehem Steel; (5) Tom Girdler of Republic Steel; Lammot Du Pont, backstage genius of General Motors.

Hannegan advisers wanted Truman to have these men sit down with Fairless of U. S. Steel, R. J. Thomas of the Auto Workers, together with Phil Murray, and ask them to settle the overall picture of steel, auto and electrical goods.

This, of course, did not happen. Instead, Fairless was powerless to talk even for his own company. He continuously claimed, like a Russian diplomat, that he had to go back to New York for instructions—which was true. He had to talk to the bankers and to other steel leaders. Murray, on the other hand, was able to negotiate with the backing of his union.

NOTE 1—After the first White House talk, the President was convinced Fairless would recommend acceptance of the CIO proposal to his U. S. Steel board. However, Fairless was not even successful in trying to convince his own board members. Next day, when Fairless told a delegation representing the rest of the steel industry that he was inclined to accept, the other steel czars hit the ceiling. They demanded a fight to the finish against the CIO. In fact, they were so alarmed at Fairless' attitude, they accompanied him back to Washington just to make sure he didn't yield.

NOTE 2—White House advisers are again urging the President to call in the real bigwigs from Wall Street and demand an overall settlement.

The collection plate has a habit of making a dollar bill hide away down in some folks' pockets.

With strikes tying up consumer goods, February may be our shortest month in more ways than one.

MARRIED IN WEST — Mrs. Harold H. Nelsen of Chicago, formerly of Wilson, announces the marriage of her daughter, Helen Elsie Louise, to Phillip H. Preacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dirl Preacher of Los Angeles, Calif. The ceremony took place in that city on Jan. 2.

The bride, who is well-known here, is a graduate of Harris high school. She enlisted in the WAC in April, 1945, and was stationed in Baxter General hospital in Spokane, Wash., later transferring to Mitchell Convalescent hospital in California.

The bridegroom was recently discharged from the army after two years of service. He is associated in business with his father in Los Angeles, where the young couple are making their home following Mrs. Preacher's release from the service.

Today's Recipes

24-HOUR FRUIT SALAD
2 eggs, beaten
4 tablespoons vinegar
4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoon butter
2 cups white cherries, cut in halves
2 cups pineapple, cut in pieces
2 oranges, cut in pieces
2 cups marshmallows, cut in quarters
1 cup cream, whipped

Put eggs in double boiler and add vinegar and sugar. Cook, beating constantly, until thick and smooth. Remove from heat, add butter and cool. When cold, fold in whipped cream and fruit mixture. Turn into fancy ring mold and put in refrigerator for 24 hours. (This makes a delicious party salad and serves 12 to 14.)

In making pasty, pecans ground fine may substitute for half the fat. Mix and bake like plain pastry.

Darn on the right side, but steam-press the finished darn on the wrong side, then brush the right side to lift the nap.

Make a tasty cornbread by adding finely diced cooked ham to cornbread batter before baking.

Equal parts of spinach, parsley and orange juice is good for the blood.

VFW Auxiliary

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary held a meeting Wednesday evening at the VFW clubrooms. Several new members were initiated, among them Miss Blanche Richards of the Women's Army Corps. Miss Richards, who served for a year in India, gave an interesting talk on conditions in that country, and the work of the service women. Following the meeting, a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

Dr. Bernier Talks On World Affairs At B&PW Meeting

"World Affairs" was the subject of an interesting talk given by Dr. Albert Bernier of Nahma before the members of the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club at their meeting this week at the House of Ludington. The close attention which Dr. Bernier has given to the study of international history and politics was evident in his excellent summary of world events today and during the past centuries.

Discussing the recent World War and efforts to set up a permanent peace program, Dr. Bernier said that in order to combat future wars, there should be a universal law for the entire world similar to the federal laws which we have in this country—a law with power and teeth in it to maintain order.

He also stressed the need for properly qualified politicians and statesmen, saying that they should have a course of training similar to that which is employed in England. "A properly qualified politician should have, among other things," he said, "a powerful personality, rhetorical talents, influential friends; he should know the laws of his country and he must be imbued in the principles of democracy, having a firm belief in them and being willing to fight for them."

A question and answer period followed Dr. Bernier's talk, during which he answered many pertinent questions asked by the members of the club. Mrs. Caroline Nystrom, club president, presided at the meeting.

Mae Cousineau and James G. Wilson Wed

At a ceremony performed in Escanaba on Jan. 19, Miss Mae Cousineau, became the bride of James G. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Wilson, 609 Ludington street. The couple exchanged vows before Judge William J. Miller.

The bride and her attendant, Mrs. Veronica Brew, wore similar dark brown dressmaker suits with white accessories and corsages of yellow roses. Bon Cousineau, brother of the bride, was best man.

A reception and 6 o'clock dinner for close friends and relatives took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Sadie Lemirand, 216 Stephenson avenue. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cousineau of Munising.

After Feb. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at home at 425 South Sixteenth street.

WED IN IOWA—Miss Virginia Leachman of New York City became the bride of Lt. William B. Stegath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon R. Stegath of this city, at a candle-light ceremony which took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Franke in Des Moines, Iowa, on Jan. 15

Camp Fire Head To Confer With Local Council

Miss Alice Lund, district field secretary of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., for the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, will arrive in Escanaba on Wednesday to confer with the staff of the local Camp Fire Girl council, according to Mrs. Dan Gallagher, president of the Bay de Noc council.

A native of New London, Minn., where she also taught, Miss Lund was formerly the staff of Camp Fire Girls. She is a graduate of State Teachers College there and subsequently taught in Alexandria and Duluth, Minn. In addition, she attended the University of Minnesota and did graduate work at New York University. Miss Lund has been active in Camp Fire activities for many years, bringing to her new post wide experience as an educator and former Camp Fire leader.

"The Camp Fire Girl program has been discouraging delinquency for thirty-three years," points out Miss Lund, who is stressing the increased need for adult leadership and encouraging parents to participate in the program whose theme is "Fun for everyone in Camp Fire."

Mothball Dig At Senior High This Evening

The promotional department of the Escanaba Senior high school is sponsoring a "Mothball Dig" dance tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock at the school gym.

The dance is in the interest of the old clothing drive now being held in the city and county. Admission to the dance will be the donation of old clothing. A large quantity of clothing has already been turned in as payment for tickets and it was expected that the pile would be about ten times that large, almost a half room full, by the time some three hundred attendants had purchased their tickets.

The clothing collection drive in the city and county is continuing on through Jan. 31 and old clothing may be turned into any of the collecting points until that time. Collecting points are the grade schools in the city, the two fire stations, the North Escanaba postoffice, the courthouse and Carnegie public library. The garments will be collected by truck from these points.

Members of the committees working on the clothing drive and hours they will work are: sorting and packing—Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday will start at 7 p. m. at the Salvation Army building, 600 block Ludington street.

Sorting packing — Mrs. Joseph Ambeau, chairman; Mrs. Herbert Barry, Mrs. John Mitchell, Miss Belle Harvey, Mrs. William Leiper, Miss Josephine Ryan, Miss Irene Toushak and Capt. George Beckstrom.

Container committee — Harlan Yelland, chairman; Arnold Alsten, Emerson Harvey and Rev. James G. Ward.

Publicity—Bert Henne and Wallace Cameron.

Shipping—Elmer Swanson, chairman; Ray Baldwin, John J. Bartella and Grover Lewis.

Lillian Bink, Robert F. Craig Exchange Vows

Miss Lillian Ann Bink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bink, 1019 First avenue south, became the bride of Ensign Robert F. Craig, son of Mrs. Winifred Craig, 1212 Sixth avenue south, at a wedding which took place at St. Joseph's church on Jan. 19.

A white carpet covered the aisle leading to the altar, which was decorated with gladioli in pastel colors, where the couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, styled with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists, and a full skirt extending in a train. Her lace-edged fingertip veil was gathered in a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of lavender orchids surrounded by white gladioli and snapdragons, with shower streamers tied with baby mums. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Marion Bink, who attended her sister as bridesmaid, wore a gown of pale pink with a fitted bodice of lace, and a full net skirt. Her head-dress was of rose ostrich tips and she carried a colonial bouquet of roses and snapdragons.

RM 2/c Richard Craig attended his brother as best man, and ushers were Raymond Knauf and Francis Rogers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bink chose a silk dress with a flowered print design, harmonizing accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Craig wore a black ensemble with a similar corsage.

A wedding dinner was served at noon at the Chicken Shack, followed by a reception in the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a wedding bell ornament. Among the out of town guests was Mrs. W. J. Janson of Marinette.

Ensign and Mrs. Craig left by motor for a trip to Green Bay, the bride wearing a gray wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The bride was graduated from St. Joseph's high school in 1940, and attended St. Anthony's School of Nursing, Rockford, Ill. Since her graduation in 1944, she has been a member of the nursing staff at St. Francis hospital.

Ensign Craig was graduated in 1941 from Escanaba high school, and attended the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton for a year before entering the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. He was graduated and received his commission in 1945. He recently returned from duty on a destroyer in the Pacific.

Ensign and Mrs. Craig will leave on Jan. 30 for New York City, where he will report for temporary duty.

Revival Of Music-Making In Homes Of U.S. Spurred By Trapp Family Singers

More than five hundred people from all parts of the United States, representing almost every walk of life, will foregather during the coming summer on a pleasant site in the heart of Vermont's rolling Gree Mountain country to participate in a unique musical experiment under the direction of the Trapp Family Singers, famed choral group to be heard at Town Hall in Escanaba on Feb. 25.

Few of these people will have had any previous acquaintance with the great masterpiece of music and hardly any of them will boast any special musical talents or training. Yet, the first day of their visit at the Trapp Family M"sic Camp, they will find themselves singing a Mozart "Alleluja" in four parts. Two days later, they will tackle one of the great chorales of Johann Sebastian Bach, and before returning to their homes, they will have performed more than fifty vocal classics ranging all the way from Palestrina and Orlando di Lasso down the centuries to Brahms, Reger and Bruckner. Some will have mastered the playing of the ancient end-blown block-flute or recorder as well, and others will have enjoyed the thrill of playing melodic sixteenth century airs on the antique spinet. Returning to their homes, most of these people will be intent on sharing this musical experience with family and friends, setting up similar programs of informal music-making in thir own ocmmunities. In this way, the Trapp Family Singers will have achieved the purpose of the four "Sing Weeks" which they conduct each summer at the Camp situated just five miles away from their own Vermont farm, where they hope to establish a national center for revival of family music-making in the American home.

Came From Salzburg

Today one of America's most heavily booked professional concert attractions, the Trapp Family Singers got their own musical start with just such sessions of family music-making in the peaceful days of free Austria in their Tyrolean home near Salzburg, where the members of this now famous professional chorus first laerned to sing and play lovely old church and folk music together purely for their own pleasure—for an hour or two of relaxation and recreation in the family circle, to enhance the beauty of the services in their little private chapel, or to color their houshold celebration of birthdays and holidays. In the trying times that followed the Nazi invasion, as they fled their beloved Salzburg and were obliged to build a new home and a new life in a new world, it was the common bond of music and the inspiration and joy they found in playing and singing together that kept the large family unified in spirit, purpose and hope. The Trapps believe that many other families, like their own, can be drawn closer in fellowship and understanding and can find new interest and happiness together by learning how to plan and carry out well-rounded programs of home music - making, in which each member, from the youngest to the oldest, can participate. It was to the initiation of the individual or the family group in the year-round pleasures to be derived from such programs that the summer "Sing Weeks" at the Trapp Family Music Camp were dedicated.

At Former CCC Camp

The scene of the summer musical experiments was formerly a CCC Camp, later taken over by the U. S. Army as a Military Police Post, then abandoned for several years, during which time the grim wooden barracks had become something of an eye-sore to the neighborhood. Leasing the Camp site from the State of Vermont for a period of ten years, the enterprising Trapps immediately set out to transform it into a place of charm and comfort. Not in the least feazed by manpower shortages, the Baroness von Trapp and her seven slim dirndl-clad daughters applied themselves to the most menial of building and carpentry chores. The Army barracks were repainted and adorned on the outside with gay window-boxes full of geraniums. Three large buildings were converted into dormitories with sleeping quarters for twenty-five persons each. Two others were separated into private rooms—small and simply furnished, but immaculately clean and comfortable. At one end of each building, a modern washroom was set up, and at the other, a charming little sitting-room where "Sing Week" participants might gather to read, write and talk over the day's program. Each of the buildings was designated with the name of a famous composer—Schbert Hall, Haydn Hall, Beethoven Hall, Mozart Hall and Bach Hall. Another building was converted into a large recreation hall and given the name, Stephen Foster Hall, because, as the Trapps put it, "His music is the gayest of all." A chapel and office building and airy, screened-in mess hall coplete the Camp.

Morning Devotions

Each day of the "Sing Weeks" opens with morning devotions in the Chapel. Each morning from 9:- to 11:30, and each afternoon from 4:30 to 6:-, the entire group participates in choral singing under Father Wagner's direction. The remainder of the day is left free for rest, swimming, fishing, biking, berrying, and other delights of a real rural vacation, or for private instruction in recorder or spinet playing. Recorder classes for beginners or more advanced players are also held throughout the day, while in the evenings folk dancing, games, chamber music, story telling, and handcraft work climax a varied and eventful day. Once during each "Sing Week", the group is taken for an outing to the top of Mount Mansfield, highest peak of the Green Mountains. After a picnic lunch, they sing together on the mountain-top, enjoying the thrill of hearing the music echo again and again across the vast open spaces.

Family Music Making

The first day of each "Sing Week" constitutes an introduction to family music-making, with emphasis on folk songs (with and without instrumental accompaniment) and songs for little children—those which they, themselves, can sing and play, and those which their elders can sing for them. The morning of the second day is devoted to America's own rich heritage of folk song, while in the afternoon, the group explores the literature of music for Christmas celebrations in the home, school and church. The third day is dedicated to the masterpieces of Johann Sebastian Bach — in the morning, several of the great Bach Chorales, and in the afternoon, other choral works with instrumental accompaniment. On the fourth day, the instrumental and vocal music of the Madrigal Period is considered (works of Thomas Morley, Gibbons, Byrd, Wilbye, Marenzio, Monteverdi, etc.), while the fifth day is reserved for some of the great choral works of the Sixteenth Century masters, Palestrina and Orlando di Lasso. On the morning of the sixth day, the study of Sixteenth Century choral works is continued and representative compositions of Vittoria introduced. On the seventh day, the study of Sixteenth Century masterpieces is concluded, and, in addition, works of the pre-Palestrina period from the pens of Josquin de Pres and other early composers are reviewed. The eighth day is set aside for choral and instrumental works (suitable for home performance) by the classical and romantic composers, including Haydn, Beethoven, Shubert and Mozart. The ninth day's program consists of easy-to-perform works of the Nineteenth Century masters, Brahms, Reger and Bruckner. On the tenth day, there is a general review of the entire course with a repetition of special works requested by participants.

City-bred "Sing Week" participants have the thrill, if they wish, of sampling authentic New England farm life, aiding the Trapps to cultivate the acres and acres of vegetable garden which supply food for the Camp's table and tending the herd of twenty-six prize cows which provide fresh milk, butter and cream in abundance. In free moments, they also enjoy gathering around the attractive little canteen operated by one of the youngest Trapp girls, where ice-cream, candy and soft drinks are served, and where gifts handcrafted by the members of the Trapps, post cards, song books, recorders and other souvenirs are sold.

OUR NATIONAL DEBT

Gladstone, Mich.
January 25, 1946.

Editor Daily Press:

By the time this Country gets thru filling coffers of European and Asiatic beggars and pulling their chestnuts out of the fire, the National debt will have reached three hundred billion dollars.

Despite all that has been written in an effort to bring within the grasp of our mental faculties, just how big a pile 300 billion dollars really is, few people haven't the least conception.

Calculated on the basis of the past ten years of New Deal spending, it amounts to approximately eighty two million every day. Three hundred billion dollars poured into rat holes, based on the assumption that every man woman and child within the periphery of the United States had a corn-crib full of twenty dollar bills.

Let us see just how, in an astronomic comparison, three hundred billion dollars bewilders the mind and puzzles the senses.

The Star 61 Cygni is distant from our Globe, the earth 62,481,500,000,000 or sixty-two billion, four hundred eighty one thousand, five hundred million miles. Light, traveling from our sun to earth, a distance of ninety five million miles, requires eight minutes to jump this gap; but it takes light ten years 114 days to fly across the mighty interval separating us from 61 Cygni. A plane, traveling at a speed of 500 miles per hour without intermission, would require fourteen million, two hundred fifty five thousand, four hundred eighteen years, before it could cross the same interval.

Assuming that in every mile of its journey it retrieved five dollars of our national debt, or $2500 every hour, we would have a clean slate at the end of its journey, or fourteen million, two hundred fifty five thousand, four hundred and eighteen years hence.

Again: there are in a period of 5828 years, 183,913,782,212, or one hundred and eighty three thousand, nine hundred and thirteen million, seven hundred and eighty two thousand and twelve seconds of time, which is less than one fifth of a billion. We are about to make a loan to the British of four and one half billion dollars, an amount equal to the number of seconds in approximately one hundred twenty thousand years.

A container, with an interior measurement of one cubic foot, will hold one thousand, seven hundred twenty eight million grains of sand. Imagine one counting 1,728,000,000 grains of sand at the rate of one grain every second of time day and night, twenty six thousand four hundred every twenty four hours, every grain representing one dollar, one hundred seventy nine years to complete the job. What a staggering picture this presents to the mind. Verily, we are a progressive people.

Conduct GHS Band On Merit System

A merit system is being used for the Gladstone high school band and when time for the spring band concert rolls around the ten members with the best records will receive sweater emblems, a music lyre with a large "G," Irving Johns, music director, reveals.

Points are given for band rehearsals, individual practicing at school, and any performance on their instruments at programs. Promptness at rehearsals is recognized by a higher number of points.

At the present time Eldon Johnson with 92 points is leading the way followed closely by Richard Olson who has 90. Others with large totals and their point scores are Melvin Larson 87, William Schram 87, Marie Erickson 86, Keith Bergman 86, Marilyn Bredahl 85, Joyce Lindahl 85, Alcide Valind 83, Gloria Oberg 83, Lois Soderman 83, Russell DeRoeck 82, Bette Olson 82, Janet Olson 81, Carol Hendrickson 81, Richard Valentine 80, Billy Green 79, Helene Johnson 78, Elna Anderson 78 and Elsie Reimer 76.

Sgt. Robert Lake Given Discharge

After 35 months of service, 17 of which were spent overseas, Sgt. Robert A. Lake was separated from service at Camp McCoy, Wis., and has returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lake at Kipling.

He was aboard the Aircraft Carrier Savo Island and returned recently from the Philippines.

Gray Fox Reported In So. Michigan

Lansing —Several reports that grey fox have been taken in southern Michigan counties in recent weeks have been received by conservation department game men. The grey fox are believed to have entered the state from Indiana or Illinois.

Latest report concerns a grey fox killed by a South Haven hunter after it had climbed into a willow tree, said to have been the first grey fox taken in that locality in 50 years.

The same hunter reports taking a red fox and three nearly full-grown opossums from a den under circumstances that suggest the fox may have reared the opossums, a suggestion that is given some credence by department game men who recall instances of dogs that have nursed kittens and cats that have mothered young skunks.

Recreation Bldg. Survey Under Way

Information on the type of recreation or community building which the City of Gladstone needs is being sought by the Recreation Board which has prepared questionnaires in an effort to prepare an authoritative survey on the project to be placed before the city commission.

The commission recently earmarked $5,000 as the start of a building fund for this purpose.

Questionnaires are being placed before different clubs and service organizations of the city. They were distributed at the Rotary meeting this week by Trooper Mason Meyer and at the Lions club Thursday evening.

Some of the questions follow:

In your opinions does the city need such a Building?

Should this project be held up until federal aid can be obtained (this may be years hence)?

Should the following be included in such a building? a. Meeting rooms (state size and number); b. Game rooms (pool tables, ping pong tables, etc.); c. Soda bar; d. Dance space; e. Gymnasium; f. Wood working shop; g. Swimming pool; h. Kitchen; i. Your idea.

Should this be in combination with any other building such as the proposed Legion building or hotel?

As a tax payer are you in favor of city funds being used for its construction?

If not, how should it be financed?

Do you think your organization (service clubs, unions, etc.) should help finance this project and to what extent?

Should this building be open to adult recreation groups?

Should this building be limited to groups with their own leaders or should a director be hired?

If a director is needed how should this be financed?

Do you have any other ideas along this line?

Ban On Motor Cars Has Been Lifted In Bermuda

A legislative decision to open Bermuda's highways to the automobile extends to the pleasure car a privilege which for years was granted only to public service and approved commercial vehicles.

The much publicized motor law of this British Colony, lying in the Atlantic Ocean about 640 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, the nearest American mainland, fixed the operation of cars by the nature of the roads, explains the National Geographic Society.

Possession of an automobile was not forbidden. The law simply banned its use on public roads. As most of the roads are public, and private roads are few and short, the law in effect prohibited the general use of automobiles.

Usefulness of power-driven vehicles was recognized in the motorized fire department, automotive ambulances, and sanitation and highway maintenance trucks. Freight trucks are available for hauling loads too heavy for horse-drawn wagons. A railroad has been in operation since 1931.

Three R's Offered by Nature

Back of the ban on pleasure cars was the concern of many residents to assure continuance of the traditional peace and quiet and the slow tempo of life that, along with the climate, constitutes the distinctive appeal to tourists. Bermuda early recognized the worth of the three R's freely offered by Nature—rest, relaxation and recreation.

Bermuda's good fortune is in its mild temperatures — the year 'round average is about 70 degrees Fahrenheit—its blue skies, its characteristic sunshine, the green of hills softly toned by a mantle of cedars, and a wealth of flowering plants—oleanders, bougainvilleas, poinsettias, lilies, and roses. Framing all this beauty and washing the pink-and-white bathing beaches, the iridescent, coral-bottomed sea provides its own attraction in color effects and marine gardens.

Included in the colony are some 360 islands. About 20 are inhabited, but only half a dozen or so are important. These main islands lie on a general northeast-southwest axis in the form of a fishhook, the hook end enclosing Great Sound and Little Sound.

Bridges and causeways knit the main group so closely that a person cycling or driving over the roads gets the impression that there is only one island. Bermuda figures its area at a little more than 19 square miles. Less than half its population of 33,000 is white. The largest town is Hamilton, the capital, with a prewar population of about 3,000.

Food, Water Imported

Vegetables are grown in considerable quantities, but home folk and visitors must look to imports to fill local larders. Chief suppliers are the United States and Canada. Water for drinking and household use is a problem. Rain is caught in cisterns and tanks; during droughts water is brought from New York as ship ballast.

By arrangement with the British Government the islands have become sites for an American naval base and an air station, an Atlantic outpost for the defense of the mainland and the Panama Canal, about 1,840 miles to the southwest.

Named for their discoverer, the Spaniard Juan de Bermudez who looked them over in 1515, the islands were no man's land until 1609 when a shipwrecked party of Virginia-bound colonists found refuge on their shores. A company was formed for settlement, and in 1684 the British Crown took over the government. Bermuda then was made the official name.

MARATHON CO. WILL EXPAND

Packaging Paper To Be Produced At Plant In Menominee

Menominee—Expansion of the Menominee plant and coordination of it with other units of Marathon Corporation were discussed at a conference here yesterday of visiting Marathon officials with George W. Holt, Jr., Menominee manager of Marathon. The expansion program will make Menominee a more important unit in the vast papermaking enterprise, which also operates mills at Rothschild, Ashland and Menasha, Wis.

Marathon will make Menominee one of the chief Great Lakes ports for the importing pulp it will manufacture in a community it is carving out of the Ontario wilderness and will convert the former Hoskin Paper company mill here for the manufacture of paper products for its packaging line.

At present the plant is producing Waxtex boxed waxed paper rolls and Kraft paper, but abandonment of the manufacture of Kraft paper is indicated.

At Wednesday's conference were R. H. Kelly, in charge of paper making; Grover Keeth, chief engineer, and his assistant Ross Kelly, all of Rothschild; Roy Sund, production manager; and Jack Staniak, general superintendent, of Menasha.

Employment Gains

Conversion of the Menominee plant to production of packaging paper will involve installation of additional machinery and installation of a second paper making machine is believed in prospect. Room for such a machine is available, as the mill was originally designed to house two machines.

At present Marathon employs about 250 persons, up more than 100 from the number employed at the plant at the start of the war. When the expansion program is completed, employment is expected to expand. On January 7 the mill went on four daily shifts of six hours each and a blanket raise in pay of 15 cents an hour was given to all employes.

Marathon owns extensive timber holdings in Ontario and is rushing to completion its huge pulp mill at the town of Marathon which it founded on the north shore of Lake Superior. The pulp mill, which embraces several revolutionary features, is being hailed as one of the lowest-cost producers on the continent and is expected to be ready for operation by next June, with a daily output of 300 tons of bleached sulphate pulp.

Marathon, Ont., is located on the easterly end of wide-sweeping Peninsula harbor, served by the Canadian Pacific Railway's main line and has already become a busy industrial community.

Pic River Area

Most of Marathon's wood supply is from the Pic river which flows into Lake Superior about 10 miles east of the mill. The pulpwood is harvested in the conventional eastern Canadian manner and is floated down the river and towed in bag booms by a large tug to the booming grounds in Peninsula harbor close to the mill. Most of the wood is spruce, with some poplar and jackpine in the Marathon timber holdings, which stretch north as far as the Canadian National Railway, where a camp is maintained at Stevens, near the Pic's headwaters.

The pulp will be baled and most of it shipped by steamer to Menominee and to Ashland, Wis., and the returning steamers will carry coal back to Marathon, where the company will operate its own power plant with powdered coal.

More than 100 townsite buildings have so far been built under direction of Marathon's townsite architect and include a wide range of structures from the excellently equipped hotel, bunkhouses to accommodate 50 men and office buildings to single-family dwellings. All of modern construction with the best of fixtures and facilities, the houses are exceptional and the old style layout of row upon row of identical cottages has been totally discarded at Marathon. When the whole plan is fully carried out, provision has been made for picturesque curved streets and extensive landscaping to present a panorama of a new city rather than that of a mill town many miles from a city.

Lengths of runways at Army airfields are determined in exact ratio to the altitude of the airfield. The higher the airfield above sea level, the more rarefied becomes the air with lessened lifting power for planes.

Reverend Lundblad Becomes Pastor Of Menominee Church

Menominee — Rev. Harry W. Lundblad, recently discharged from military service as a U. S. Army chaplain, last night was installed as pastor of Bethel Lutheran church on Stephenson avenue in an impressive ceremony before an assemblage of more than 200 persons. Rev. William Siegel, of Iron Mountain, president of the Superior Conference of the Augustana Synod, presided at the installation service.

Following the prelude presented by Mrs. James Sterett, church organist, members of the choir and the district pastors entered from the rear of the church and for their processional presented "Open Now Thy Gates of Beauty". Members of the Bethel church council, Simon Bolin, M. C. Bergstrand, Carl A. Anderson, Emil Peterson, C. A. Hassel and Victor Eckstrom, were also in the processional.

Rev. J. Melvin Hedin, of Stephenson, served as liturgist and read from Scripture I Corinthians 2:1-6. And the choir, under direction of Miss Wilma Anderson rendered the anthem "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by Bach.

As text for his sermon, Rev. Siegel used "The Spirit and Message of the Christian Pastor" and then led in the installation rites, assisted by the following pastors, all of whom are members of the Green Bay district:

Rev. Edwin Swanson, of Marinette; Rev. Gustav Lund, of Escanaba; Rev. Emory Pokrant, of Bark River; Rev. Frank Peterson, of Norway; Rev. Clifford Peterson, of Gladstone; and Rev. J. Melvin Hedin, of Stephenson.

MHS Debators Gain Further Recognition

Recognition of the good showing made by members of the Manistique high school debating team and the good work done by their coach, Miss Shirley Avner, came Friday in a letter to Carl Olson, high school principal from the University of Michigan Extension service.

The letter, written by Donald E. Hargis, manager of the Michigan High School Forensic Association, follows:

"Mr. Carl Olson, Principal

"Dear Mr. Olson:

"Congratulations are in order for your school, Miss Avner, your debate coach, and the debaters as runners-up in the Michigan High School Forensic Association Upper Peninsula Debate Championship. At present trophies are not available, but I hope they will be soon.

"I would like to suggest a special assembly for the presentation of the trophy and the Detroit Free Press debate wall plaque to the school.

"Thank you for your continued interest in our program.

"Sincerely,

"Donald E. Hargis, Manager."

M. YOUNG DIES IN GERMANY

Killed When Truck And Train Crash Near Darmstadt

Confirmation of the death of Pfc. Morton Young, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young, of Cooks, was recently made in a report received by the young man's wife and his parents from the War Department.

According to information in the telegram, Pfc. Young was killed December 11, when a gasoline truck he was driving slipped on icy pavement and crashed into a train. He died instantly in the explosion that followed. The accident happened near Darmstadt, Germany.

Pfc. Young had seen two years of overseas service and saw much action in the European campaign.

Surviving him are his wife, Julia, now living in Ann Arbor; his parents; four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Reagan, Cooks; Mrs. Charles Peterson, Germfask; Alice and Nadyne, at home, and two brothers, Ross and Lyle, also at home.

LOCAL LIQUOR DEALERS MEET

Ask Penalty For Minors Who Lie About Their Ages

Seriously intent on making 100 per cent effective the state laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors, members of the Schoolcraft unit of the Upper Peninsula Liquor and Beer Vendors' association in a meeting held Wednesday evening at the American Legion hall, went on record as favoring laws that will make juvenile offenders share, with the liquor dealers, the responsibility for violations.

Proposed legislation dealing with the subject in this matter was recently proposed by the U. P. organization and dealers of a number of counties have already given the proposal their wholehearted support.

As one of the local members of the association explained, dealers in general are anxious to see that the laws against the sale of liquor to minors are strictly complied with. They want to do their part in making these laws effective, but when young folks who appear to be twenty-one years old or over ask service and lie about their age, dealers often get into trouble. "We want to see to it that the law will make it just too bad for these youngsters who get us into trouble."

The law would make it possible to punish minors who enter liquor establishments and misrepresent their ages.

Speakers at the local meeting were William J. Sheahan, prosecuting attorney, and John M. Hewitt, sheriff.

CLIFFORD RICE CRASH VICTIM

Fatally Injured When Car Left Road Friday A. M.

Clifford Rice, 25, of Gulliver, Route 1, died about 5 o'clock Friday evening at the Shaw hospital following a motor accident.

The young man, who had returned to civilian life but two weeks ago, was injured when his car left the road on Highway US-2 about six miles east of here. When or how the accident took place has not as yet been determined. State police, in response to a call found the young man lying beside the wrecked car, called an ambulance and had him taken to the Shaw hospital. Rice never regained consciousness.

The young man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice of Doyle township.

The body is at the Morton funeral home.

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF OUR OPPORTUNITIES—
Wherever you find a prosperous dairy industry you also find a prosperous community. This is a fact too well known to be disputed. It is also true that many parts of Upper Michigan no more favored than Schoolcraft county, have developed into prosperous dairying areas. It behooves us, therefore, to do our part in helping Schoolcraft county become one of these favored areas.

Eskymos Beat Ishpeming, 30-26, For Eighth Straight Victory

LOCALS TAKE CAGE THRILLER

Visitors Put Up Hard Scrap, Threaten All The Way

The Eskymos won their eighth consecutive basketball game last night, defeating Ishpeming, 30 to 26, in a hard-fought battle that was undecided until the final minute of play. In a preliminary game the Junior high school team defeated the Eskymo Reserves, 30 to 14.

It was a much improved Ishpeming team that faced the Eskymos last night from the team the local quintet met at Ishpeming before the holidays. Escanaba won that game by two points but without the services of Jack Finn, reglar center, and in that game Escanaba led nearly all the way.

Ohman

Last night the Eskymos had the advantage of their home court and maximum strength but they found the Hematites extremely dangerous all the way.

Okesson, towering Ishpeming center who plagued the Escanaba team all night, scored two quick baskets for his team at the start of the game and Leffler dropped in another to send the visitors off with a 6-0 lead. The Eskymos missed frequently during the first period and garnered only one field goal, a close-in shot by Ohman just before the period ended.

Ohman followed with another goal from near the foul line to start the second quarter but Tonkin and Okesson scored for Ishpeming and Turino converted a free throw to make the score 11-4. The Eskymos found the range at this point. Finn sunk a free-throw, Lough a long field goal, Ross pushed in another goal and Finn added a free throw. The Eskymos moved into the lead just before half-time on Finn's goal from the foul line.

Okesson Troublesome

Ishpeming regained the lead in the third period on successive goals by Tonkin after Finn scored a free throw for the Eskymos. Ross split the net for a bucket and Ohman cashed a free throw but Okesson responded with a tip-in shot for the Hematites to tie the score at 16-all and then moved ahead once more on Kuisti's foul shot. It was the last time the visitors were in the lead but they evened the score twice later in the game. Ohman scored three successive free throws and a field goal to make the count 21-17, but Okesson's free throw, a hook shot by Tonkin and Turino's free throw knotted the score at 21-all. Scott broke the deadlock with a tip-in shot just as the third period ended.

The fourth period gave indications of a romp for the Eskymos when Ross scored again and Ohman cashed his final free throw to spread the gap to 26-21, but the Hematites still were not subdued. Okesson scored a free throw and a basket and Leffler dropped in a long shot to tie the game once more at 26-all at the automatic intermission.

Jack Finn and Scott pumped in field goals for the Eskymos as play resumed in the final four minutes and then the Eskymos stalled their way to victory. Twice in the last minutes of play they passed up four shots to control the ball from out of bounds plays. The visitors elected to pass up a foul shot in the final 25 seconds of action but couldn't break through for another bucket.

Escanaba was just another ball team last night, despite their eighth consecutive victory. Ishpeming presented a team equally as tall as the Eskymos, perhaps taller, and controlled much of the rebounds.

Badminton Club To Be Organized; Players Invited

Badminton players here are making efforts to reorganize the local club, inactive during the war, and at next Thursday evening's session of play at the Senior high school gym, players are expected to bring one or more other players. A special invitation is extended to returned servicemen but all adults interested in playing or learning the game are asked to come out.

Some equipment is available.

The badminton sessions are held every Thursday evening at the gym between 7:30 and 10 o'clock.

Grade School Boys Are Invited To See Basketball Films

Boys of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the Escanaba schools will be shown two basketball films, "Championship Basketball" and "Fundamentals of Basketball," at the senior high school auditorium this morning at 11 o'clock. There is no admission charged and all interested in basketball are invited to attend.

These two films were shown yesterday morning at the junior high school and yesterday afternoon at the senior high school. Coach Rouman would like to have as many of the grade school boys see the film as possible.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The decision of the Escanaba high school to sponsor an interscholastic baseball team next spring was received by local baseball fans with sincere enthusiasm. It is the most vigorous step yet taken for a rebirth of baseball in this locality. The local school is assured of any cooperation and assistance it may desire from Escanaba baseball fans to get the program under way. Bats, ball, gloves, mitts and uniforms, too, have been promised by local fans to outfit the high school team if school officials desire.

* * *

The Escanaba high school will find no dearth of good prep baseball talent. Most of the lads playing with the Escanaba Teensters last summer were high school youngsters now in their senior year at the local school. The municipal diamond, adjacent to the athletic field, is certainly one of the best, if not the best diamond in the upper peninsula. It is fully enclosed, has a well-groomed grass infield and clay baselines. Moreover, it is situated so that the facilities of the field house in the Escanaba athletic field may be utilized by the players for dressing quarters, complete with showers.

* * *

The main obstacle to the promotion of interscholastic baseball in Escanaba and other cities of the upper peninsula is the weather, which is not always ideal in April and May in this section of the country. However, barring an unseasonably dreary spring, weather conditions should permit at least a half dozens games before mid-June when the school term ends. Additional impetus was given to the promotion of interscholastic baseball in Michigan this year by adoption of a state association ruling permitting interscholastic competition throughout the summer months. It is not known yet whether any high school teams in the peninsula plan a summer schedule of interscholastic baseball. This will undoubtedly develop in time, if not this year.

* * *

Baseball will be promoted as an interscholastic sport without abandoning track, which has been the major spring sport here. In addition two other sports, tennis and golf, will be added to the spring interscholastic program. That is consistent with the sports expansion program that is developing all over the nation in the postwar period. There is room for all activities. Some youngsters prefer track or golf or tennis to baseball and, of course, vice versa. Many youngsters will be able to participate in two of the spring interscholastic sports programs. This is common in many high schools where two sports programs are offered simultaneously.

* * *

Of the four sports now placed on an interscholastis basis for spring promotion at the Escanaba high school, baseball is the one most likely to become self supporting. Track has never been self-supporting, nor has either golf or tennis. While it is true that the financial end is not the main factor in determining the success of an interscholastic sports program, there can be no denying the fact that finances must be a consideration. In times of retrenchment, it is the self-sustaining programs that carry on while others are necessarily abandoned.

TENNIS COURTS CALL Mc NEILL

Former Titlist Plans To Re-Enter Competition As A Hobby

BY AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, Jan. 25 (AP) — Don McNeill, who at one time or another has held or shared all four national tennis titles, pushed aside the papers on his desk and rubbed his hands together enthusiastically as he talked of returning to active court competition, although "only as a hobby."

Fresh out of the Navy after a three and a half year hitch and now a serious-minded employe in the foreign department of an advertising agency, McNeill disclosed today for the first time that he and Frank Guernsey will defend their national indoor doubles championship in the tournament opening here March 9.

The two won the title in 1941 at Oklahoma City in the last national indoor meet, defeating Bobby Riggs and Jack Kramer in the finals.

Frank Kovacs, who took the singles crown in that tourney, has since turned pro, however, leaving the singles field wide open for the nation's net stars who gather in the Seventh Regiment Armory for the first major postwar event.

Guernsey, just out of the army, is due in New York in a few days to keep the date he and McNeill made after their Oklahoma City success. Of the two, McNeill probably has been on the court the more during their long period in uniform.

Neither McNeill nor Guernsey is included in the current USLTA rankings because they were out of competition last year.

Because of the pressure of his new job, McNeill doesn't plan to enter singles competition in the indoor meet unless he can get in more practice then he's been able to manage recently. He held the national indoor singles title in 1938 and won the outdoor crown from Bobby Riggs in 1940.

BUCKS FAVORED OVER MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP)—Boasting a winning streak over the Wolverines that has reached jinx proportions, Ohio State's Buckeyes are a heavy favorite to hang up their eighth successive basketball triumph over Michigan here tomorrow night in an important Big Ten encounter.

Even without their tall center Arnold (Stilts) Risen, who departed from the squad after Ohio plastered the Wolverines 57 to 40 at Columbus in December, the Buckeyes have remained within hailing distance of the conference lead and will be after their sixth Big Ten victory in seven games when they square off against Michigan.

The Wolverines, beaten for the second time by Indiana early this week, need a victory to boost their season percentage back to the .500 mark in conference play. Going into the Buckeye encounter Michigan has won three of seven Big Ten games, beating Illinois, Chicago and Northwestern.

Michigan's wrestling team will be seeking its first victory of the season when it tangles with Purdue here Saturday night, while Coach Matt Mann's Wolverine swimmers go after their third straight dual meet triumph Saturday afternoon against the Boilermakers.

Tigers Put Mullin On Regular Berth With Outfielders

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP)—Pat Mullin, 28-year-old Detroit Tiger outfielder who received his Army discharge last Saturday, conferred with General Manager George M. Trautman here today, signing his application for transfer to the world champions' active player list from the national defense list.

Trautman said that the transfer would take about five days to clear through the American league office and that he "anticipated no difficulty reaching an agreement" with Mullin on terms for a 1946 contract.

Return of Mullin, who hit .345 for the Tigers in 1941 before beginning his 46-month hitch in the Army Air Forces, give Detroit at least four strong outfield candidates released from service since the 1945 world series.

Lyles LeCaptain Will Be Instructor At Ludington Park

Lyle LeCaptain, of Ladysmith, Wis., recently discharged from the U. S. Army ski troops, will conduct skiing classes in Escanaba beginning this morning, George Grenholm, city recreation director, announced yesterday.

The first class will be held this morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Ludington park east end for all boys and girls who are just learning to ski. Classes for children will also be held Wednesday and Friday afternoons at 3:30 o'clock. A class for adults will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The area will be floodlighted for skiing, Grenholm said.

LeCaptain is the husband of Jeanette LeCaptain, who is directing the Escanaba ice revue.

Embryo Fighters "In Training" For Local Kids' Card

Upwards of 40 youngsters of all ages and weights are "in training" for the Silver Gloves boxing tournament to be presented at the local recreation center late in February, Jerome Deloria, instructor, has announced.

The kiddies, weighing from 30 pounds up, are working out each afternoon at the recreation center and are getting close supervision by Deloria. A full scale of training activities is included in the program, exercises, punching bags, ring instructions, etc. All the youngsters desiring to participate are eligible for either the training program or the tournament to be conducted later.

The Escanaba Lions club, cosponsors with the Escanaba Daily Press of the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves, is cooperating with the recreation department in developing the Escanaba Silver Gloves exhibitions.

EMERALDS WIN FROM MUNISING

Scoring In Final Minute Gives 'Stique Five 39-32 Victory

Manistique, Jan. 25 — A pair of buckets and a free throw in the final minute of play gave Manistique high school its second victory of the season here tonight, a 39 to 32 win over Munising, after the Mather quintet, which trailed most of the way, had come within two points of tying the score in the final period.

An excessive number of personal fouls slowed play and caused the banishment from the game of one Manistique and two Munising performers.

The Manistique reserves defeated the Cooks high school five in the preliminary, 49 to 38.

George Ruwitch of Escanaba was official of the main event.

Strong Amateur Would Aid Golf, Claims Corcoran

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—The statement does seem a little incongruous, as it's like a guy selling bananas hoping someone will come along and start giving them away, but Freddy Corcoran says that what golf needs right now is a good amateur threat.

Corcoran's job is to see that the tournament pros do all right for themselves, and in his job as P. G. A. tournament manager his interest in amateur golf naturally is academica, except where it concerns the welfare of the pros.

He naturally realizes that outstanding amateurs giving the pros plenty of trouble creates added interest in golf, making for bigger gates, and as the amateurs don't collect any money the added revenue would be a boon to the cash players.

"You remember back in the 20's," he writes, "with amateurs like Bob Jones, Francis Ouimet, George Von Elm, Jess Sweetser, Chick Evans, Jess Guilford, Fred Wright, George Voigt and one or two others you could have a Walker Cup team which could hold its own with the Ryder Cup team, and those fellows were all winning medal play tournaments with the top professionals.

Bud Ward Back

"This year we did have three amateurs win tournaments, Fred Haas, Jr., at Memphis; Lt. Cary Middlecoff at Pinehurst and Frank Stranahan at Durham. Before that the last amateur to win a tournament for the professionals was Ken Black in 1936 at Vancouver. I know that a real amateur threat would help the interest in golf tremendously.

"Of course we have Bud Ward back, and he in my opinion is the No. 1 ranking amateur. Also other good players like Middlecoff, Bob Cochran of St. Louis, Harry Given of Seattle, Stranahan of Toledo and Haas of New Orleans. By the way, there is an amateur from San Francisco by the name of George Schoux who has everything. He has been in the Army for some time and is just coming back to golf. He played with Lawson Little and Jimmy Demaret and they both say he is the top amateur they have seen. He hits the ball a long way and has all the shots."

Corcoran reports the pros are having the biggest tour in history, and although he admits this sounds like ditto marks of other statements the last few years, he says it is true as attendance at Los Angeles, Richmond, Calif., and San Francisco was the largest ever.

Keener Competition

Bryon Nelson, currently resting, is the Bobby Jones of today as far as gallery appeal is concerned, he says. In the 20's the fans would say: "Let's go out and see Jones." Now it's Nelson. Nelson, incidentally, plans to return to tournament golf in February, probably in Texas, Corcoran says.

He also predicts keener competition in the near future with fellows like Ben Hogan, Demaret, Little, E. J. Harrison, and Vic Ghezzi back from the service. Lloyd Mangrum will join the tour at Phoenix.

National Open Champion Craig Wood still is having back trouble. He can go out and play 18 holes and score as well as anybody, Corcoran says, but he hasn't been able to go 72 holes yet. He is hoping to make a good showing this winter and defend his title at Cleveland.

Outfield Experts Return To Cards

St. Louis, Jan. 25 (AP)—Three of the best men in the business have returned from the armed forces to handle the outfield chores of the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1946 pennant race.

The Red Birds received notice today that Enos "Country" Slaughter has been discharged by the Army Air Forces. He will rejoin his old teammates, Terry Moore and Harry Walker, at the special training camp for veterans, starting Feb. 18 at St. Petersburgh, Fla.

An outfield of Slaughter, Moore and Walker could match any similar aggregation seen in the National league in recent years with the possible exception of Slaughter, Moore and Stan Musial. And Musial might be out of the Navy in time for part of the season.

Both Slaughter and Moore entered the armed forces after the 1942 world series. Walker replaced Moore in centerfield in 1943 and developed into another of the Cards' perennial fielding stars before being drafted the next winter.

GOLDEN GLOVES JUDGES PICKED

Hurley And Betts Are Selected; Manci Will Referee

James Manci, of Iron Mountain, will referee the bouts in the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing tournament here Feb. 4-5, it was announced yesterday by the tournament committee. Judges will be George Hurley and Miles Betts, both of Marquette. All three have served as officials in previous Golden Gloves tournaments in Escanaba.

Dr. Frank Logic, of Iron Mountain, has been designated by the state boxing commission as inspector for the Escanaba tournament. Timekeepers will be Wm. Puckelwartz, Dick Schram and Jim Rouman, Escanaba athletic coaches. Art Goulais will be the announcer.

Latest entries in the tournament are Bob Sayklly, 135 pound novice, of 1835 Third avenue north, Escanaba; and Dwight Meyer, 147 pound novice, of 1427 North 18th street, Escanaba. The official entry of Paul Lancour Jr., of Brampton, 135 pound novice, also was received yesterday, although Lancour's unofficial entry had previously been announced.

Additional entries are still expected from Iron Mountain and Manistique and several more entries are probable from Delta county.

Featured Mile Won By Les MacMitchell In Philadelphia Meet

BY BOB CAVAGNARO

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—Leslie MacMitchell, former New York university track star, marked his first return to mile competition in almost four years by winning the featured mile race in the Philadelphia Inquirer invitation indoor track and field meet tonight.

Rating himself well, the former I. C. 4-A and N.C.A.A., mile titleholder, covered the 12 lap mile in four minutes 14.1 seconds to win by 20 yards over Tom Quinn of the New York Athletic Club, national cross country champion.

Forest Efaw of Stillwater, Okla., national indoor three mile titlist ran third; Walter Mehl, of the University of Wisconsin, was fourth, and Bill Maguire of the 69th Regiment of New York was fifth and last. Howard Borck of the New York A. C., dropped out at the halfway mark, and Rudolph Simms of the New York Pioneer Club ran only 11 laps.

Reginald Pearman, Negro war veteran representing the New York Pioneer Club, won the 1,000-yard handicap as two New York A. C. favorites, Howard Borck and Al Daley, who ran from scratch finished far in the rear of the field of 23.

With a 30-yard handicap, Pearman took over the lead from the early pace setter, Dick Cornfield of Philadelphia, as the field swung into the final two laps of the seven lap whirl.

Pearman's time was 2:17.6.

Bill Bangert, Purdue university's singing shotputter, captured the opening event putting the shot 49 feet 4 inches.

In second place was Fortune Gordon, U. S. Navy Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Va., put the shot 48 3½ inches. Norman Wasser, U. S. Navy, co-favorite with Bangert, was third with a toss of 47 feet 11¼ inches.

Conditions Improve For Winter Sports

Bay City, Mich., Jan. 25 (AP)—Perfect weather for skiing, tobogganing, skating and ice fishing was reported for all winter sports parks in northeastern Michigan today by the East Michigan Winter Sports Council.

All roads are in good condition, the summary said, despite five to twelve inches of snow. Temperatures range from 20 to 25 above.

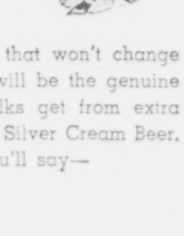
One Thing That Won't Change

It's true that science may develop new hybrids and new flowers . . . but we can be sure that in the world of tomorrow, flowers will still be the language of beauty.



One other thing that won't change in the new era will be the genuine pleasure that folks get from extra pale Menominee Silver Cream Beer. Then as now you'll say—

"It's The Finest Beer I've Ever Tasted!"

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Ida Amelia Lake, who passed away five years ago today, January 26, 1941.

Five years ago today
Our dearest treasure passed away,
Our Mother.
Long days, long nights your pain,
Waiting for cure but all in vain.
God saw that you were suffering
And the hills were hard to climb,
So he closed your weary eyes and
Whispered, "Peace Be Thine."

Sadly missed by her husband, children and grandchildren:

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband, father, son and brother, Earl C. Mathieson. We are very grateful to those who sent floral and spiritual bouquets, to those who donated the use of their cars, served as pallbearers, and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will remain with us always.

Signed:
MRS. EARL C. MATHIESON
AND SON CLAYTON,

ORDER BAN ON PINBALL GAMES

Liquor Commission Says All Gaming Devices Must Be Removed

The Michigan liquor control commission in a recent bulletin to liquor licensees has ordered the removal of all pinball and slot machines and all other gaming apparatus from the premises of beer, wine and liquor vendors. The letters were received by Delta county licensees this week.

Locally there was some confusion among the licensees in the interpretation of the order, particularly in relationship to the ban on pinball machine. Clarification of the order is sought to determine whether the pinball machines may be left on the premises if they are played for amusement only.

The letter from liquor control commission follows, in part:

"It is the order of the commission that pinball machines or any gaming machines or apparatus whereby the one who plays stands to win or lose money, trade checks, prizes, merchandise or any consideration, including free games shall be prohibited from the licensees' premises," the commission letter advised.

The sweeping order apparently applies to all licensees, clubs included, inasmuch as no exceptions were listed. It was noted that specific mention was made of "free games" as one of the considerations banning pinball machines from premises of liquor licensees.

In the letter disclosing the ban on pinball and slot machines, the commission also advised that "the liquor control commission has materially strengthened its enforcement division, and is requesting the cooperation of all licensees in the strict observance of all provisions of the liquor law and the rules and regulations of the commission."

The commission advised that "these penalties shall apply to the following violations committed on and after Feb. 1, 1946:

"Any licensee found guilty of selling or serving alcoholic beverages to a person under 21 years of age or of allowing a person under 21 years of age to consume alcoholic beverages upon the licensed premises, shall be subject to a penalty of not less than 30 days suspension of license for the first offense; not less than 60 days of license for the second offense, and revocation of license for the third offense.

"Any licensee found guilty of selling or serving spirits on Sunday shall be subject to a penalty ranging from a fine of $200 to revocation of license."

Double-Cross Claimed; Meat Plants Seized

Union, which also has been on strike since Jan. 16, directed its 55,000 striking members to return to work and assured Mr. Truman that "we shall cooperate with you in their seizure fully."

The CIO called the seizure order, directing workers to return at least temporarily at old rates of pay, a "double-cross," contending the union had received government assurance the order would contain provisions for making effective any wage increases a fact-finding panel might recommend.

On this point Secretary of Agriculture Anderson in Washington said he telegraphed Clark to tell him that he, Anderson, would favor putting into effect immediately any such recommendations and would so advise the wage stabilization board and other agencies.

The CIO union demanded a wage increase of 25 cents an hour, or 17½ cents now with later negotiation of the other 7½ cents. The AFL union asked an increase of approximately 20 cents an hour, or a $36 minimum for a 40-hour week. The unions said the highest offer from any major packer was a 10 cents an hour boost.

A three-man fact-finding panel continued its work, meantime, studying production costs in its Chicago hearing of representatives of the packing houses and the unions. Washington officialdom believe the panel's findings would be ready "within a week."

Council Rejects Sale Offer Of Dr. Chenoweth's Home

Meeting in a special session called late yesterday afternoon members of the city council rejected an offer to purchase the property of Dr. Rodger Chenoweth at 1010 First avenue south, adjacent to the city hall.

The property consists of a large eleven room house and one and a half lots, 75 by 160 feet in size.

City Manager A. V. Aronson explained that Dr. Chenoweth wished the city to have the first opportunity to purchase the property before offering it to an interested outside party.

Councilmen decided that it is extremely unlikely that there will be any joint action by the city and county within the next five or six years, if ever, to erect a combined city-county building on the city hall site and so concluded there was no point in acquiring the Chenoweth property.

The property was inspected by the council members before the meeting.

At the special meeting the council authorized the sale of 13 city-owned lots in the three I. Stephenson company plats in North Escanaba. City Clerk Carl E. Anderson was authorized to advertise for sale at a minimum price of $200 (the city's investment in the lots), the following: Lots 9, 15 and 16, Block 16; Lots 4 and 11, Block 38. And at a minimum price of $250, Lot 16, Block 6; Lot 1, Block 10; Lot 3, Block 17; Lot 16, Block 6; Lots 11 and 12, Block 13.

NATIONAL HAS FINE BANKROLL

Even Phillies Are Well Fixed, Beams Prexy Ford Frick

BY GAYLE TALBOT

New York, Jan. 25—(AP)—The National league, which will observe its 70th anniversary next week, is in by far the finest shape of its long and sometimes precarious career, with money fairly oozing out of each club treasury and not a worry in the world, President Ford Frick admitted today under severe questioning.

"You might say," he added, "that the baby has grown up. Even the Phillies have money, and no longer is there talk about installing dog racing in the Boston Braves' park to help the club out financially. It's a mighty, mighty nice feeling."

It was not always so. Only a few years ago it was not unusual to visit Frick at this season and find him pacing the floor and wondering how much more dough the league could afford to lend the Phils, or pondering the plight of some other debt-ridden lodge member. Now, apparently, he has little to do but rear back and look like a man of distinction.

Better Race Ahead

"There isn't a team that isn't well fixed financially, and with money to spend for players," Frick pointed out. "The Cardinals are getting ready to build themselves a fine new park just as soon as the material is available. They have a splendid site in downtown St. Louis, and the architect's drawings have been completed.

"Several of our teams that have been sunk in the second division look like they will be stronger than in many years. Look at the Phils, for instance, adding a couple of stars like Frank McCormick and Jim Tabor to their infield. I look for the whole field to tighten up."

Pointing up the happy birthday angle, Frick dug out faded records to show that the National league first saw the light at a meeting at the Old Broadway Central hotel here on Feb. 2, 1876. By coincidence, the annual mid-winter joint meeting of the two major leagues will be held here on Feb. 2 to draw up the '46 schedules.

SPECIALTIES UP 1 TO 4 POINTS

BY HUDSON PHILLIPS

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Steels, rails and a wide assortment of standard issues were lower in today's stock market but a handful of specialties rose 1 to more than 4 points.

Declines, in the majority almost from the start, exceeded a point in many cases at the worst, but there were numerous recoveries in the final few minutes of trading which materially helped the list as a whole.

The three major groups in the Associated Press averages were down .1 to .2 of a point and the 60-stock total ended off .1 at 78.3. There were 482 declines, 321 advances and 179 issues unchanged out of 882 appearing on the tape. Transfers of 1,760,000 shares compared with 2,210,000 on Thursday.

American Woolen common was the star performer of the specialty list for the second day in a row. The stock advanced to a new high at 57 and then slipped back to end at 54 5-8, up 4 1-8.

Labor news was plentiful and most of it calculated to chill investment sentiment still more. The breakup in the Ford negotiations for the time being accentuated the darkening picture.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem both lost more than a point. Schenley gave up more than 2 and smaller losses were posted for Texas Co., Goodyear, Youngstown Sheet, International Harvester, National Distillers, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, American Can and Allied Chemical.

MARKET MIXED

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Most railroad issues closed slightly lower today in a mixed bond market.

Carriers were off .1 of a point on average in the Associated Press compilation with Central Railroad of New Jersey 5s of '87, Central of Georgia 5s of '59, Monon 5s of '66 and some Missouri Pacific, Katy, New York Central and New Haven liens following taht trend.

Florida East Coast 5s of '74 moved up 4½, and others showing improvement included Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis 5s of '75, New Haven 3½s and St. Louis Southwestern 5s and 2nd 4s.

Industrials were unchanged on average with Philip Morris 3s, Curtis Publishing 3s, Celanese 3s and Texas Corp. 3s declining, while Standard Oil of California 2 3-4s, American Tobacco 3s and Skelly Oil 2 3-4s improved.

Utilities reflecting an advance of .1 of a point on average included Commonwealth Edison 3½s, International Hydro Electric 6s and American & Foreign Power 5s.

Sales were $5,820,000 compared with $7,420,000 Thursday.

Gainers among foreign government bonds included Brail 6½s, Greek 7s and 6s and Canada 4s, while Poland 8s and most of Chilean and Peruvian loans were off slightly. U. S. governments were firm.

TRADING TRENDS

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—

Stocks: Lower; steels give ground.

Bonds: Irregular; prices generally narrow.

Cotton: Lower; commission house profit taking.

Chicago:

Wheat: Unchanged to 1-8 higher; good demand.

Corn: Unchanged at ceilings.

Rye: Unchanged to 3 3-8 up; good demand.

Hogs: Fairly active, steady. Top $14.85 ceiling.

Cattle: Steady to strong, mostly steady. Top $18 ceiling.

GOVERNMENT BONDS

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO BUTTER

Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—(USDA)—The butter market was firm today and unchanged at OPA ceiling prices.

CHICAGO EGGS

Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—(USDA)—Eggs were irregular; No. 3 and No. 4 extras, 35 to 36; medium extras, 30 to 30½; standards, 33 to 33½; current receipts, 33; dirties, 31½; and checks, 31; other prices unchanged.

CHICAGO POTATOES

Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes, arrivals 92, on track 161, total U. S. shipments 774.

Old stocks: Supplies moderate, demand very slow, market weak. New stocks: Supplies light, demand slow, market steady for best stocks. Idaho russet Burbanks, U. S. No. 1, $3.40; Nebraska bliss triumphs, U. S. No. 1, $2.85 to $3.00; Minnesota and North Dakota cobblers, commercial, $1.95 to $2.00; Pontiacs, U. S. No. 1, $2.30; bliss triumphs, U. S. No. 1, $2.35; Wisconsin Chippewas, generally good quality, $2.30; Florida 50-lb. sacks of bliss triumphs, U. S. No. 1, $3.25 to 3.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—Trading in May rye fell in step with the Winnipeg market today and the grain closed as much as 3 3-8 cents a bushel higher than yesterday's finish.

After sagging around a cent in early dealings, buying support came into the pit starting a slow climb which carried to a net gain of 4 1-8 cents shortly before the close. Some of the extreme advance was lost on profit taking.

Trading in all pits was slow as most brokers remained out of the market awaiting the government report on stocks of grain in all positions on January 1.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1-8 cent above yesterday's finish, May $1.80½; corn unchanged at $1.18½ ceilings; oats unchanged to 3-4 up, May 81; rye unchanged to 3 3-8 higher, May $1.99½; barley unchanged, May $1.22½.

Wheat trading was somewhat active in comparison with the almost negligible amounts that have changed hands recently.

Purchases of cash corn on a to-arrive basis exceeded 60,000 bushels, and some July futures were traded in the pit at the ceiling price.

Oats trading was the slowest pace in several days, with most transactions in the deferred deliveries which were still around 3 cents below ceilings, allowing a margin for speculative operations.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—(USDA)—Salable hogs 11,000, total 13,500; fairly active, steady market on all weights and sows; good and choice barrows and gilts, 180 lbs. and over, 14.85 ceiling; sows 14.10 ceiling; good clearance to order buyers and small killers, outside interests taking about half the run. Shippers took 5,000.

Salable cattle 2,000, total 2,000; salable calves 300, total 300; limited supply fed steers and yearlings steady; nothing strictly choice here, and eastern order demand rather narow on low choice offerings; bulk 14.00 to 16.75; top 17.00 paid for 1,025-lb. mixed steers and heifers; no choice heifers here but other grades well cleaned up at 11.50 to 15.50; cows steady to strong; cutters 8.50 down; most beef cows 9.50 to 12.00, medium to good beef cows 13.50; bulls very scarce, fully steady; vealers 15.50 down.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Closing foreign exchange rates follow (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents):

Canadian dollar in New York open market 9 5-16 per cent discount, or 90.68 3-3 U. S. cents, down .06¼ of a cent.

Europe: Great Britain $4.03½, unchanged; France (franc) .845, unchanged.

Latin America: Argentina free 24.65, down .03 of a cent; Brazil free 5.25; Mexico 20.65.

WINTER QUEEN TO BE PICKED

Senior Girls Eligible For Contest Here Next Friday

The Escanaba Winter Sports club wil sponsor a queen contest to select Escanaba's 1946 winter queen to represent this city at the Queen of the North competition at Houghton on Feb. 14-15, it has been announced.

Only senior girls of the Escanaba and St. Joseph high schools will be eligible for the competition. Nomination blanks will be distributed at both high schools next Monday and the nominees will meet at the Escanaba high school on Friday, Feb. 1, at 4:15 o'clock. The selection of the queen and her court will be made by the tournament committee at that time, but the results will not be announced until Sunday, Feb. 3.

The queen and her court of six girls will be selected upon the following standards: beauty of face and figure, photogenic qualities, personality, general appearance, grace and carriage, skating and skiing ability and form, dancing and ballroom poise, deportment and public speaking.

The nominees will be narrowed to a group of seven girls after which each member of the judging committee will make his selection by number in a sealed envelope. The sealed envelopes will be opened by a special committee for public announcement on Sunday, Feb. 3.

Each nominee will fill out a questionnaire to assist the judges' committee in its selection, but the judges will know the girls only by number. Nominees must have parental consent for participation in the contest and the queen will receive an all-expense trip to Houghton for the Queen of the North contest. The winning candidate will also receive a complete ski suit as a gift from the Winter Sports club. The members of her court will receive ski jackets.

FRAT WILL ENTERTAIN

Houghton—Delegates to the Upper Peninsula Winter Sports Council organizational meeting here Feb. 14 will be guests of Blue Key fraternity, sponsors of the Michigan Tech Winter Carnival, at the Ice Revue and Coronation of the Queen of the North that evening. At least 15 cities and towns are expected to send representatives. They will draw up a constitution and elect officers. Establishment of the council was approved at a Winter Sports Conference at Ishpeming on Nov. 2.

Buys A Car, Has An Accident, But Fine Is Suspended

Owning a car for even a half hour proved very expensive for Frederick Deno, 25-year-old resident of Escanaba, Route 1, here this week.

Shortly after purchasing a coupe Thursday night, Deno struck a car owned by Alfred Bonamer, 1412 Second avenue north, in the 1200 block of Ludington street where it was parked, damaging it to the extent of $185. He was arrested by city police officers and yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving, but Justice of the Peace Henry Ranguette suspended a $25 fine and he was assessed only the costs of the case.

Deno had already paid for the damage to the Bonamer machine.

Who pays the wages?

Men and women who work for wages get their pay checks from the company. Where does the company get its money?

Obviously, from the sale of its products. In other words, from other men and women who buy what workers make.

Most of what the customer pays goes for wages, directly and indirectly.

If workers ask too much for their services, the prices of the products they make get too high. Fewer customers are able to buy.

The result is fewer sales and fewer jobs.

For the sake of employes, just as much as for the sake of investors, management must keep in mind the fact that the customer pays the wages.

Thus, in the long run sales and jobs grow from a proper balance between wages and prices.
